B. H. S. Silver Anniversary

Now that Brewer High School is in its 25th year, we as an annual staff have decided to take you back through the years and touch on some of the things that have contributed to the character and pride of Brewer.

In 1952, when the doors first opened to students, many new plans and hopes were launched. Continuously through athletics, curriculum, and activities, Brewer has striven for the highest. Even though the first Senior graduating class numbered only twelve, compared to over one hundred and fifty today, all have contributed in some way to bettering Brewer and paving easier paths for the next classes. In 1955, when the school was only three complete years old, another bond program was passed which, because of increased enrollment, provided for extra class rooms and the erection of Bear Stadium. As the school and enrollment continued to grow and expand, America itself was growing in size and power. When the fifties ended, many new technological and cultural feats were established—television, space travel and Rock and Roll. But now all these things are familiar for Brewer students on its Silver Anniversary . . .

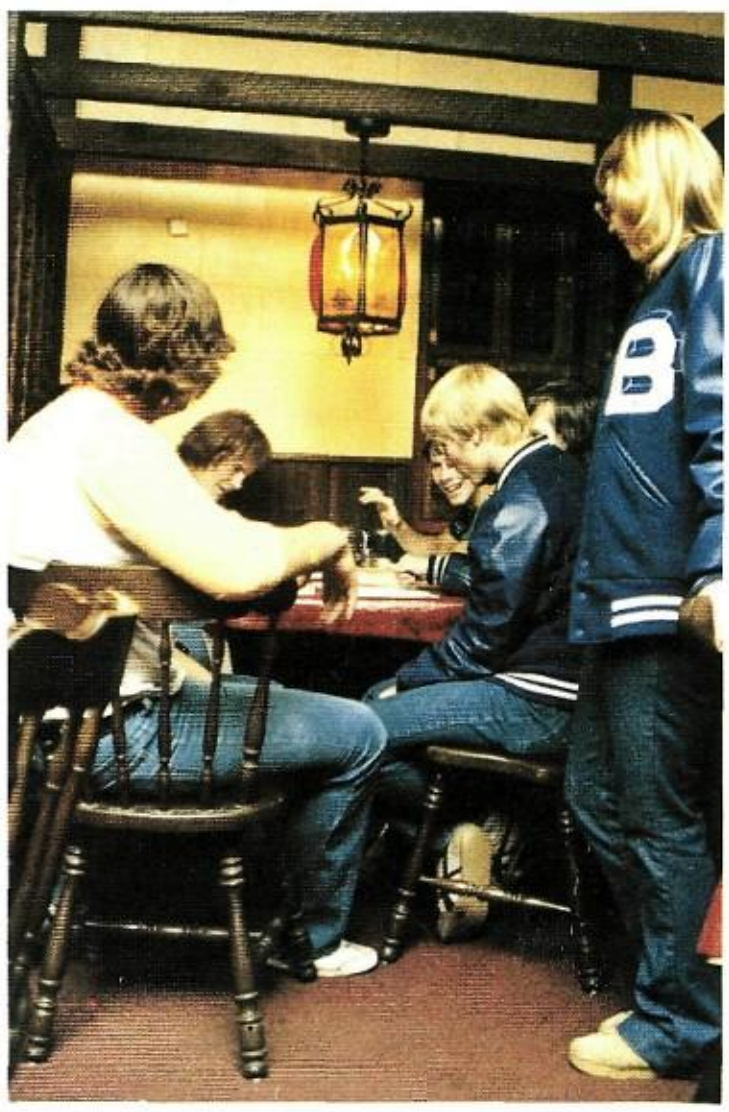
"I's here first!"

Overtime at Brewer High . . . Syncronize your schedule with a friend and get your car pools together. Then go flying down Bowie Highway to check in at your local McSonic, Jack-in-the-Hut, and/or Whatacrystalbell. When there, grab your materials such as salt shakers, Cokes, sugar packets, and last but not least, "FOOD" . . . then the work (fun) begins. First start off with an accidental spill of the night, which sets off a chain reaction of chills, spills, and thrills . . . "Look at all the pepper he's putting on his pizza . . . it's not his pizza . . . hey! it's MY pizza!" . . . Then take a break for any rival that might happen to be in the vicinity. Before going back unsuspiciously cover your Bear decals, jackets, and any other Bear paraphernalia. As the evening winds down into the nocturnal wee hours you are relieved of duty . . . to WRAP up the night.



Spinnin' rings . . .

. . . Brewer kept up with its high ideals and better teaching in the sixties by providing students with more activities and an even higher level of education. The students of the late fifties were soon launched into the space age of the sixties. In 1963 the tenth Senior Class gave as a school gift, the stone bear located in the stadium. The mascot still stands today, though slightly disfigured, as proof of the endurance and strength of Brewer High School. In that same year, as the U.S. became involved in the Vietnam War, many students felt a strong patriotic responsibility to their country. Later however, as this patriotism turned into frustration and violence across the country, Brewer students were reminded of their loyalty always to the school. The war ended with a sigh of relief, but the problems continued as Brewer shouldered its way into the seventies.

As in the sixties, the seventies were sometimes turbulent and filled with controversy. America had its Watergate and Equal Right's Movement, but sometimes right at Brewer things were simmering. One of the most controversial happenings, the symbol of how WE were and how we felt, the annual of 1973 reflected the way America and Brewer were changing. When the Senior Trip was discarded, that added yet another issue of hot debate for the students (mainly Seniors) of Brewer. Along with the controversial and sometimes unpleasant happenings, there were also many good things to happen. The band traveled to Mexico, the Bears obtained a new coaching staff, and last but not least the remolding of the school. As this annual is being put together the construction goes on for a new Brewer to fit the needs of the community as it always has. Now enjoy and remember while looking at this annual and think about the changes and events that will inevitably occur as Brewer moves toward its 50th Anniversary . . .

The Anniversary Celebration

Paintstreamerspaperglitterballoons and GRAPEVINES entwined throughout Homecoming Week for the greatest explosion of Spiritmania '77. Prominately decorated doors and weighed down walls of silent signs proclaimed perpetual victory by swinging past, breaking, and locking up misconstrued milicious Mustangs . . . As the last moment details were being put up, the school burst into a Beardom of mass anxieties. The Cominghome spirit rally began with reminiscing exes and lively students intensely awaiting the announcement of the 1977 Homecoming Queen—Melody Ware. The uneasiness and formalities faded away as vigor and enthusiasm replaced it for the anticipation of the GAME. Even though the Bears experienced the Mustang-blues, the Homecoming continued on in its quest for remembrance. Though it was not to be found in Black Diamonds, the students, satisfiably for the hard-working few, definitely made Homecoming '77 one of the best things that ever came home.

Awaiting the big moment.

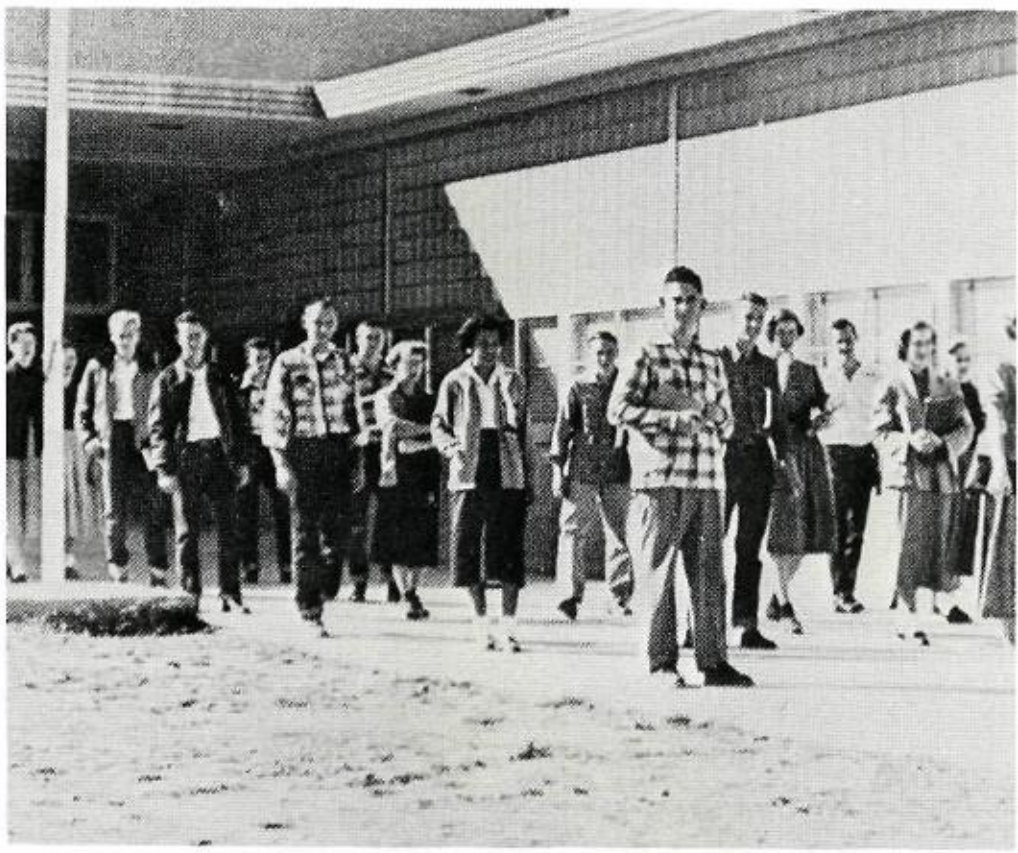
The Way We Were

In 1952, when Brewer opened, the titles of the halls reflected the bobby socks, ducktails, and white T-shirts of that era. When teeny boppers first gained popularity with their rolled up jeans, greased down hair, and souped up Chevys no one guessed the impact they would have on things to come. The "Fabulous '50's" soon turned into the turbulent "60's" with the introduction of mini-skirts, Woodstock, and "hippies". These controversial and often startling, ideas pushed us into the sophisticated '70's. This disco-oriented set of young adults changed the outlook of teenagers. Even now, though the tiles are dulled, we have our own reflections. Because of this we've decided to capture the style of our youthful days for you to go back and look at how things USED to be.



Remember the good ol' days?

"WHAT'S GOING ON DAVIS?"

I pull up to the school with my eyes still half shut. I'm still tired from working the night before. I walk into school wondering what will happen to influence my life today, something exciting I hope. I'm met in the hall with, " . . . don't forget the meeting at break," followed by, "Can you bring cookies to the dance?" and, "what committee did you want to be on?" . . . The mind machine has started to function—I'll never make it through the week . . . how'd I ever get so involved? . . . I feel like I haven't slept in a week. I'm off to my classes and it's break. Well at least I made it to the meeting and so far nothing exciting has happened. Will it ever? "This meeting will come to . . . " yes, I can bring those, what committee am I on? . . . Saturday at 2? sure I can be there. This week I'll have two hours and thirty-seven minutes of free time . . . Sunday, too? . . . Oh well, there go the two hours. I make it to lunch where I stuff a hamburger(?) and Coke down my throat while being reminded of my responsibilities to everyone else. Too bad I can't make time. The last bell rings and I'm on my way home at 4:35 after attending two meetings, three committees, and one election. Home—how strange it feels to be here, well off to my activities . . . when's something exciting going to happen? Maybe tomorrow if I have enough Time . . .

Although the phrases, "Maul the Mountaineers", "Hound the Greyhounds", "Bury the Bunnies" and "Wreck Tech" aren't quite as familiar as "Athinson the Bulldogs", "Pluck the Eagles", "Tie up the Lions" and "Hats off to the Bears", All these phrases have conjured up the unending spirit of competition at Brewer. The many trophies in the cases in the main hall demand the attention of all who enter the school. For the past 25 years the "Bears", whether participating in sports or other competition, have striven to be better than their competitors. Now the addition of yet another trophey case to provide space for the many awards that had no room is evidence of Brewer's Superiority!

Brewer Bears Clinch 1A-8 Championship

The Brewer Bears clinched the baseball championship of District 1A-8 with a 9 to 1 victory over Northwest in a game played on the Brewer diamond Tuesday afternoon. Curtin Matheus held the Northwest batters to six hits. The Brewer batters slammed out 11 safeties off Schluenter, the Justin hurler.

The win was the 11th straight victory for the Brewer Bears. Coach Wally Franks said Wednesday that the Bears have one more scheduled game that with Lake Worth, but that it was doubtful if the game would be played.

This Friday night, the Bears will play the Paschal Panthers in an exhibition game at Rockwood Park, for which there will be a 25¢ admission charge. The Paschall team won the championship of the Fort Worth district.

This was Coach Wally Franks first year with the Brewer team. He is a former TCU baseball player and also a member of the teaching faculty of Brewer High.

The football season opened with the Bears traveled to Weatherford to meet the 'Roos. It seemed as the first night jitters prevailed, the Bears went down fighting 6–26. They met Crowly at Bear stadium and were the first to be put under the "Bear Claw" 35–12. The Bears and the spirit traveled to Keller in hopes of bringing home victory number 2. But the hopes fell as the score board read 0–28.

The Bears on the road again traveled to Diamond Hill and were again defeated 14–22. But the spirit couldn't be dampened as preparations for homecoming began. With the halls decorated the Bears met Grapevine and were ready to give them a good fight, but once more they were defeated 14–27.

As zone play started the "Bear Spirit" was better than ever. They traveled to Northside ready to put the "Big BEAR Bite" on the Steers, the dust cleared and the score board read Bears 35, Northside 18. The Bears chalked up victory number 2 and preparations for the game against Boswell began. Although the Bears tried hard, Boswell came out ahead 7–21. As a large crowd turned out to see the Bears SURPRISINGLY stomp azle 21–7. The Bears had brought home victory number 3. They then met Castleberry at "Bear Stadium" and the long time rivals were next in line to be put under the every powerful "Bear Claw" 40–28. As the last game of the season rolled around the spirit could not be put down. They trompled over Everman 38–0. And the Bear season ended with a 5 and 5 record and a second place District Title.

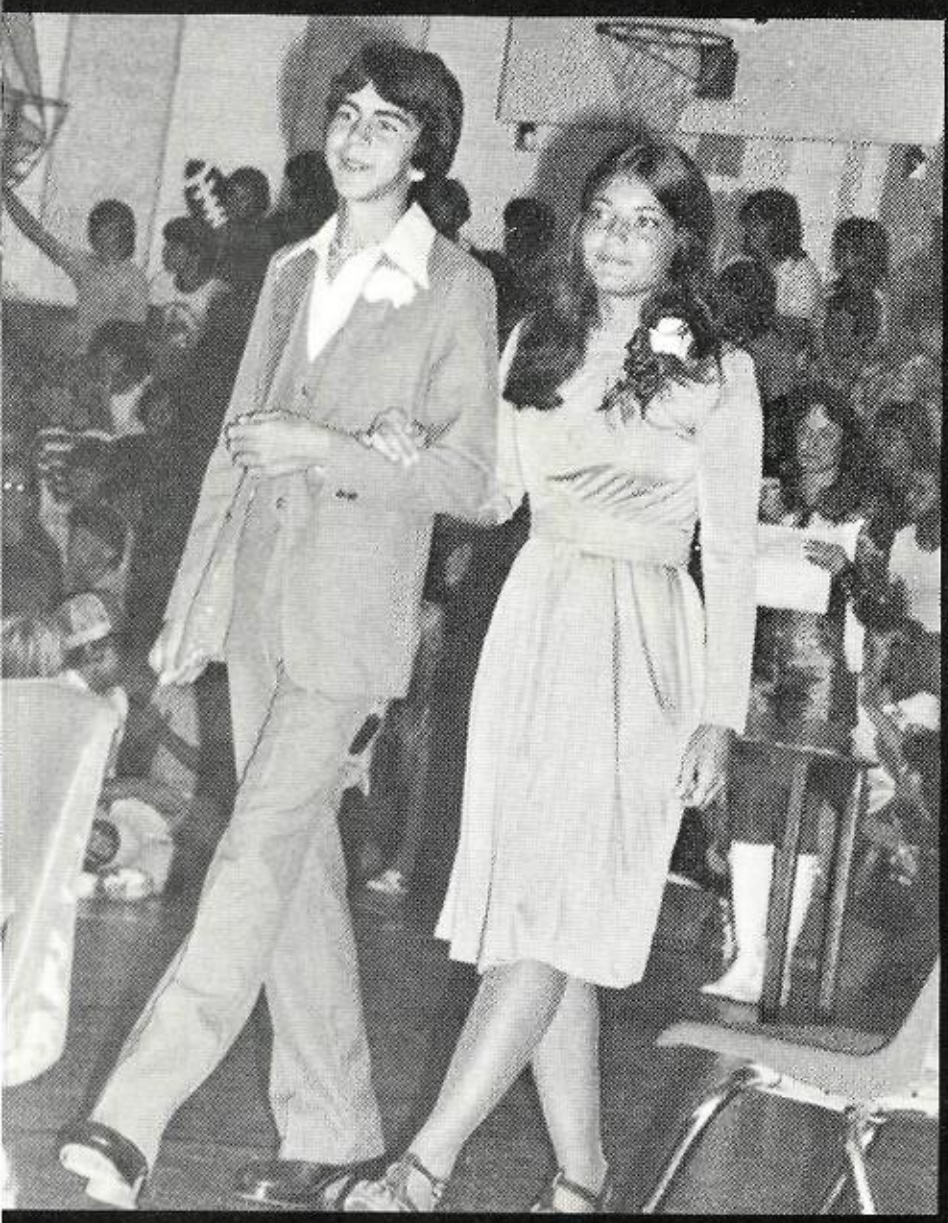
Personalities

BREWER HIGH FOOTBALL QUEEN—Joyce Johnson, a member of the Junior Class of Brewer High School, was elected Football Queen by members of the Brewer High football squad. She was honored at the game between Brewer High and Handley High played at Handley on November 14 and also at dance in the Liberator Village Recreation Hall on November 22.

WELCOMING THE QUEEN--Mayor and Mrs. V. O. Camm were welcoming White Settlement Day Queen Delores Gusta son above after she had alighted from helicopter shown background. Her Royal Majesty flew over paraders in hel copter and landed at White Settlement Road and Cher Lane.



The elite few. They're in everything. The personalities of BHS live up to their names and have since 1952. The friendliest, best looking, most athletic or best all-around; it makes no difference, they were chosen by the students, their friends. Qualities of each have been "Traditional" for 25 years, from Joyce Johnson (Football sweetheart 1952) to Alyce Cain. They were active. Isn't that what it's all about?

A section to recognize the elite, for their activity and school spirit. Their fellow students and friends chose them because they know who is deserving.

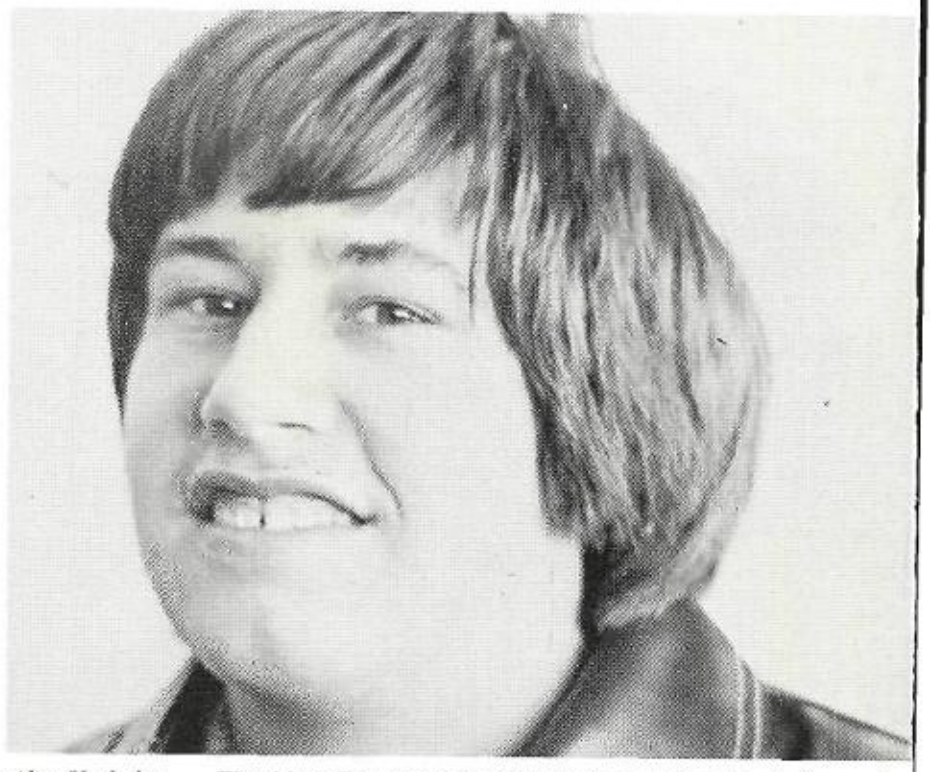
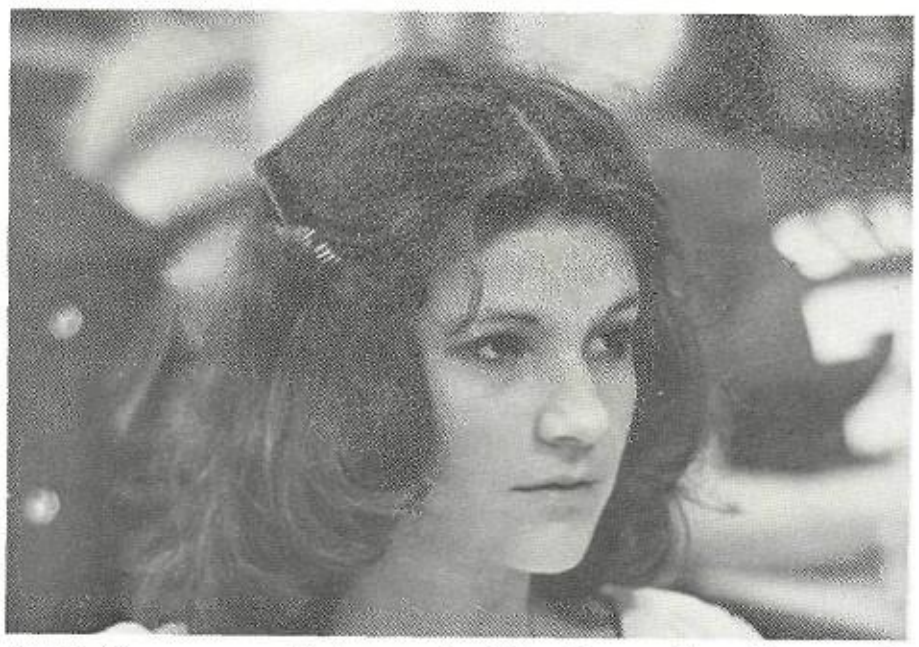
Senior Who's Who

Yolanda Medina . . . Although this is my last year I am sad in a way because I know that I will be leaving all of my closest friends. All of my most cherished memories are in the classrooms just being with the people, my friends.



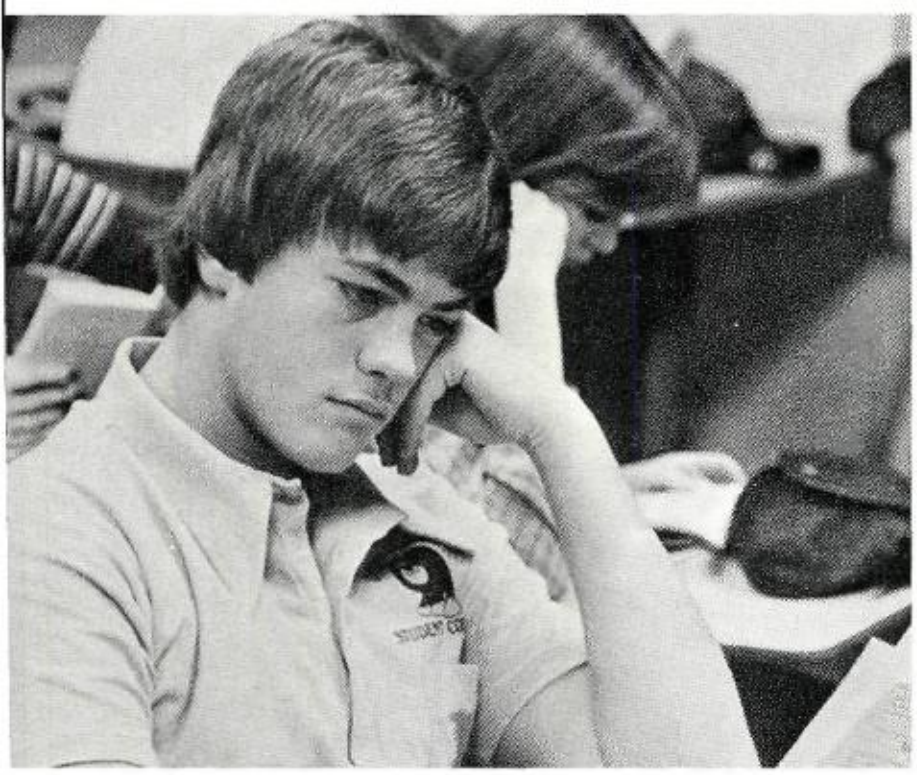
Alan Umholtz . . . The things I have cherished most of all are the friends I've made, being class officer, preparing for the prom and my years with athletics. Most of all the dedication of some of my teachers.

Debra Johnson . . . What I've cherished most are the friends who have been there to help me with my problems and who have helped me get through all the rough times that came with four years of high school.



Dee Dee Thomasson . . . The happy and sad times I spent with my friends are the things I have cherished most about my high school years. True friends are hard to find, but the friends you make in school are friends for life because the moments you spent with them will be locked in your mind.

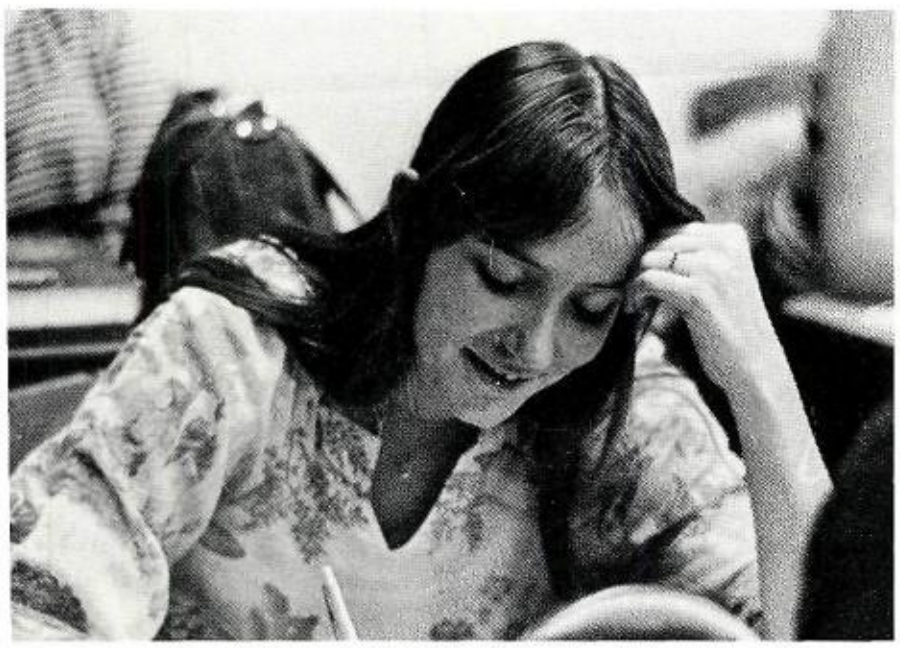
Mike Griggs . . . All my past years in high school, my great friends and the time we had are memories that will always be with me, but for now I cherish my Senio year. I hope I can look around in the next 10 years and find everyone as happy a me.



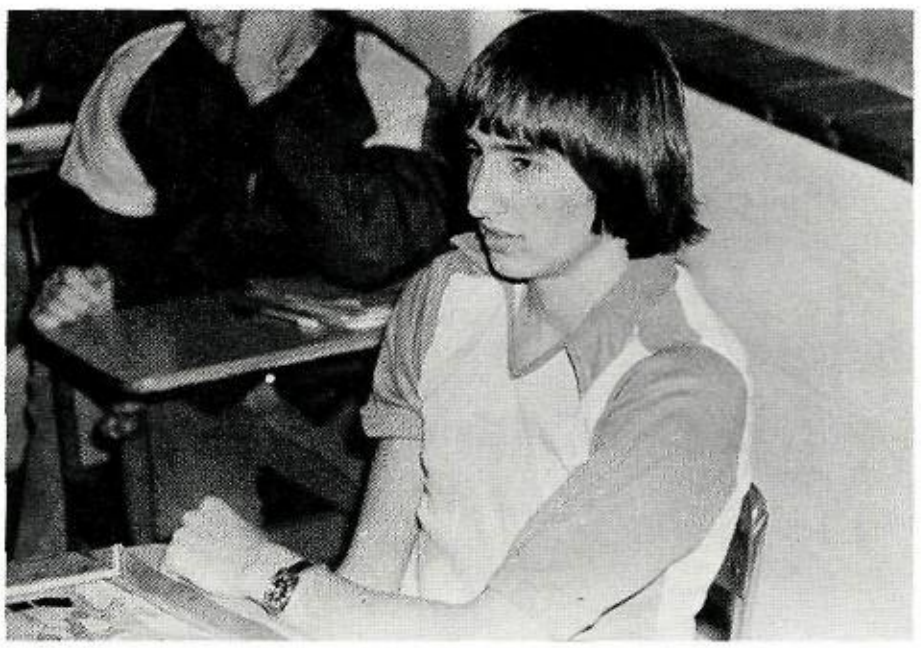
Mark Presswood . . . I enjoy the spirit at Brewer and the dedication of it's athletes o win. The friends I've made and the closeness of our class have also let me enjoy t at Brewer. I would like to see the locker space changed, it is much too small, but ıothing spiritual should be changed, Brewer is number one.

Rhonda Pennington . . . Of all the memories I have of my years at Brewer I will always cherish the good times I've had with my friends and the proud moments I've experienced being a part of Brewer. It has been said that a person's high school years are the best years of his life, I only hope my memories will prove this true.

Jake Del Rio . . . I cherish the many memories and opportunities that I have had. Most importantly, I cherish the many friends and all the things we did. I would like to see the school become more basic in it's teaching. And I would also like to see less emphasis put on extracurricular activities.

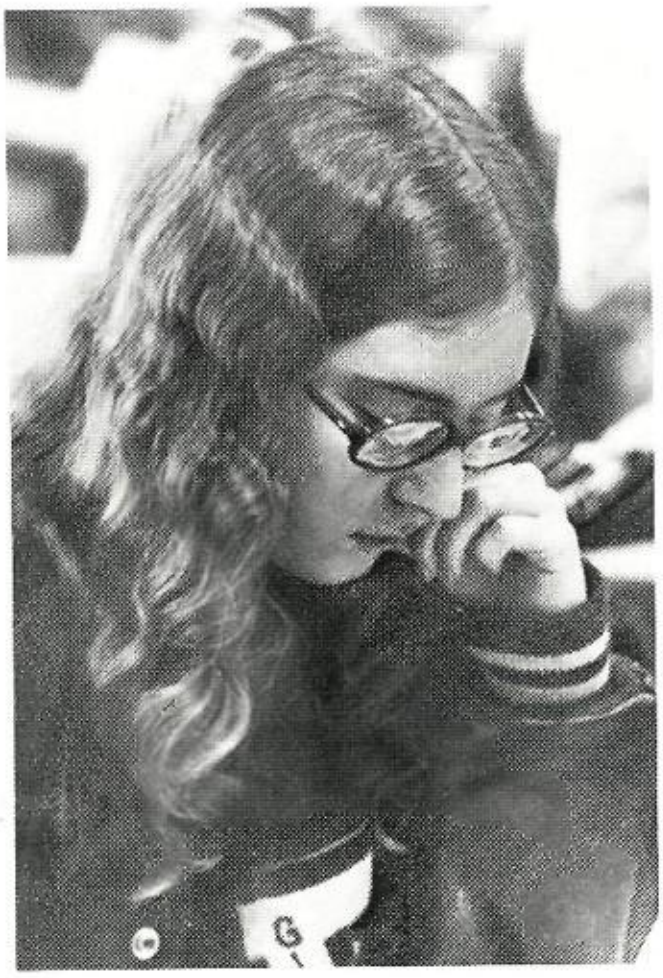


cki Williams . . . When I look back on my High School years many things will ck out in my mind. Such things as Football games, working with the prom, ıdent council activities and the things like wrapping houses and shoe polishing rs are the memories I'll cherish forever, but what I'll cherish more than anything all the friendships I've made.



Ricky Stanford . . . I've cherished all the students and teachers that make up Brewer. I'll remember basketball and my teammates winning and losing. The only thing that I would change would be adding another year to school.

Carol Mitchell . . . My philosophy of life is to take each day as it comes, do your best, then forget it; except to benefit from your mistakes. I think that the learning facilities of Brewer in the future will be much better because of the renovations now going on.



Paul Cheatham . . . I feel life is not ours to live, but Jesus Christ's, we will no experience a full life until we have achieved this relationship.

John Heber . . . My philosophy in life is to search for the truth ones own reason. I see Brewer High School as having more spirit for their school.

Bobby Simpson . . . My philosophy of life is that nothing comes easy. Concentration and hard work equals accomplishment equals satisfaction. For Brewers future I see a vast improvement athletic wise, better facilities, and a close unity between students.

Cindy Legget . . . My philosophy is to live life to the fullest and to strive to gain my goals throughout my life. I see a lot ahead for Brewer High School because it has many things to offer and it is filled with wonderful people.

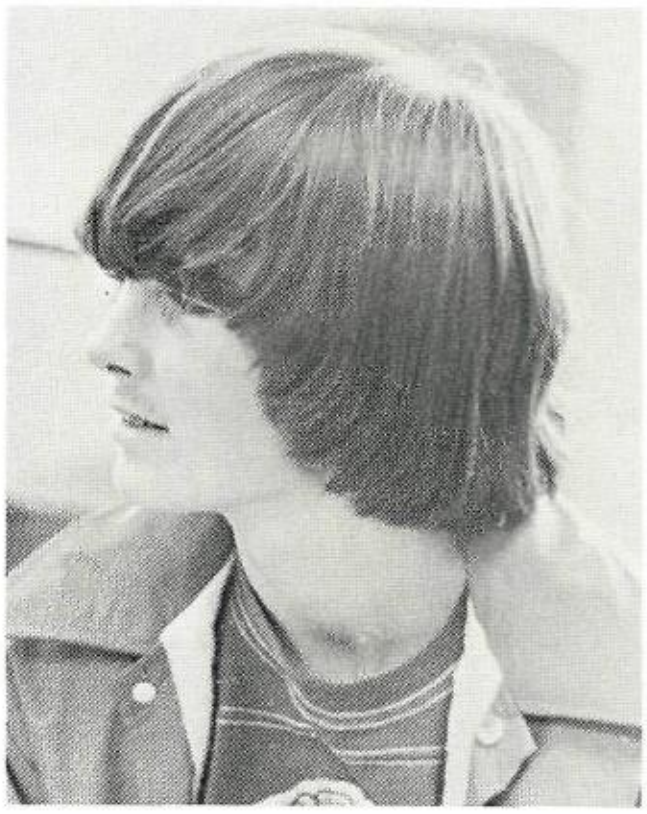
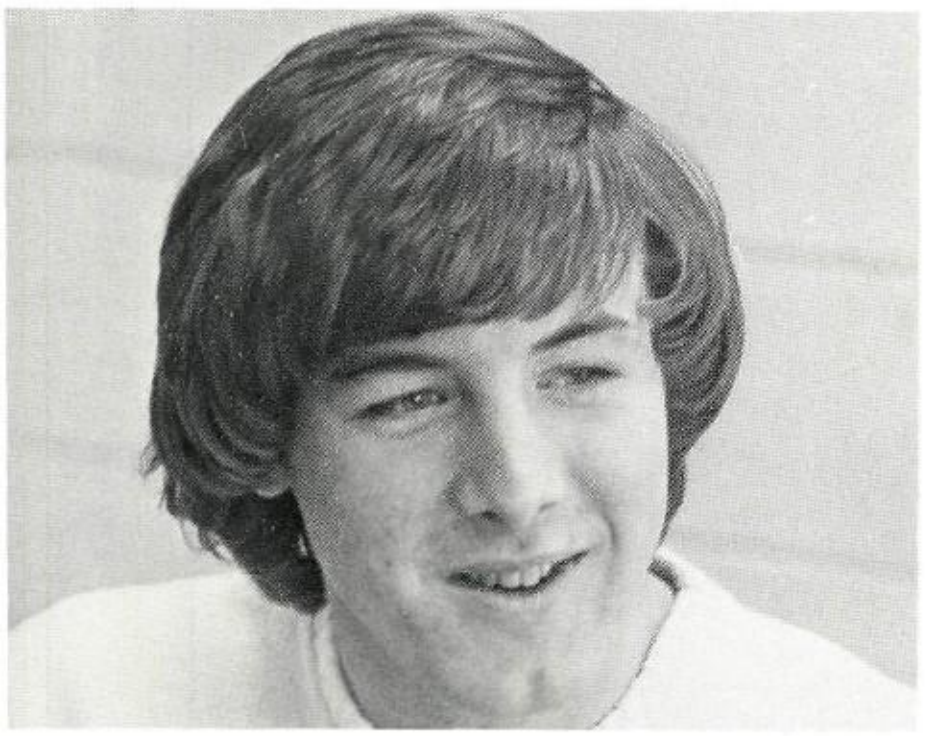
Tammy Morrison . . . To not imitate others, but respect them for what they are. It would be useless to predict a future for Brewer, it would be better to plan and build.



Larry Boatman . . . Life is a long, tough road and you have to go at it with everything you've got. It's tough, but you've got to be tougher. I feel like Brewer is on the rise. It is becoming a better place to go and the students are joining together with class spirit among all classes.

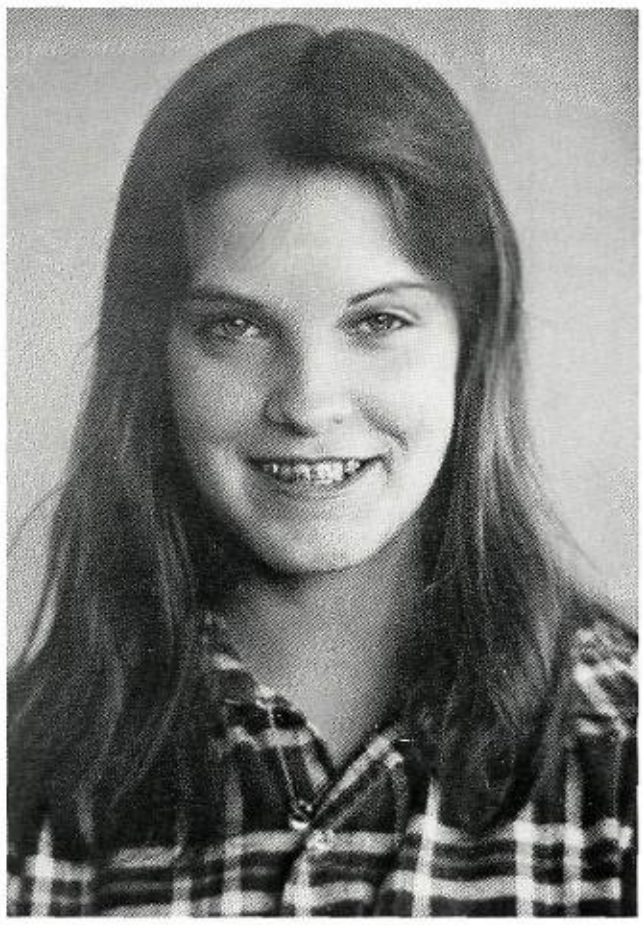


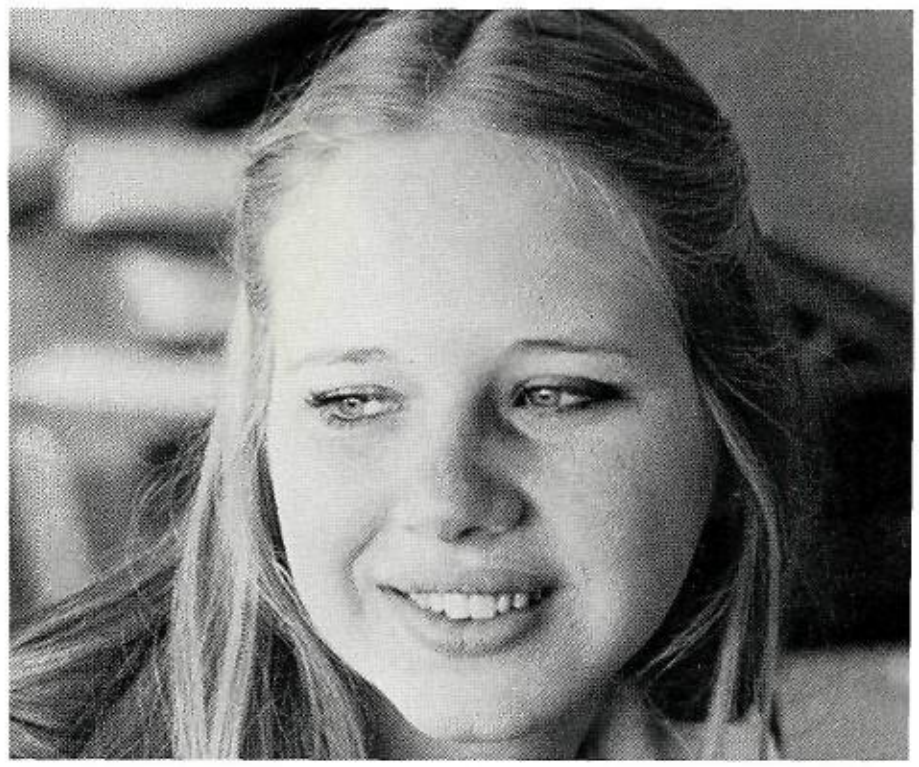
Scott DeShong . . . To share happiness with someone each day. When I can brighten someone's day, they in turn have brightened mine. People need to be aware of the needs that everyone has. My outlook for Brewer is that it will always be a HELP school — Here Everyone Loves People.

Judie Tedford . . . Not to pattern my life after someone else, but to be myself at all times. I feel that there is a lot ahead for Brewer if they have people holding offices that are very proud to be from Brewer.

Julia Rinehart . . . To set the highest goals possible and then strive your hardest to achieve them. Brewer may have a very good future for them. Not only in athletics or band, but more in academics and school spirit.

Sheryl Saladino . . . Mary the mother of Jesus Christ. I think it would have been a great honor to be chosen to be His mother.

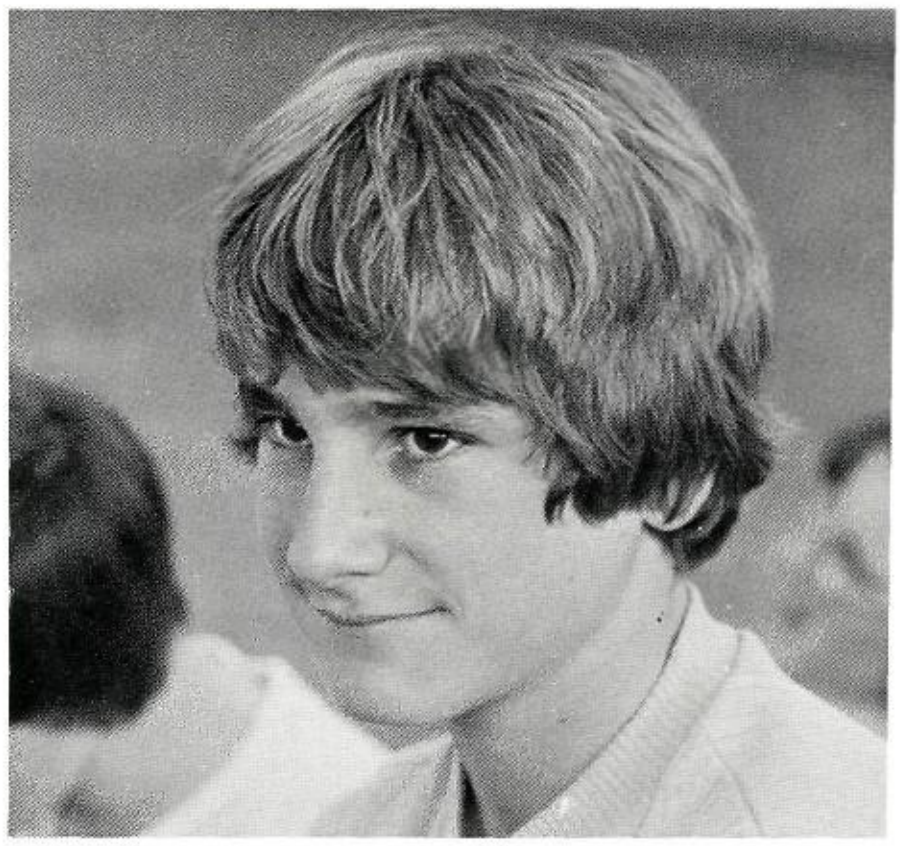




Gayle Libby . . . I would like to be Elizabeth Barrett Browning, because I would have to be able to write poems the way she did.

Jim Enright . . . Around each corner there may wait A new road or a secret gate and thou we pass them by today Tomorrow we might pass this way and take that hidden road that runs to the moon and to the sun.

Kelly Bolf . . . I want to be myself in all situations. Everyone has faults but also many good points. All the people you meet during your lifetime is what makes life so exciting. Everyone is so different that's why it is so important to always be yourself and not someone else. Each time you hide your real self from others, you're not only cheating yourself you're cheating others.



John Sutton . . . Jonas Salk. Because he conquered the dreaded disease polio which in turn saved many lives.

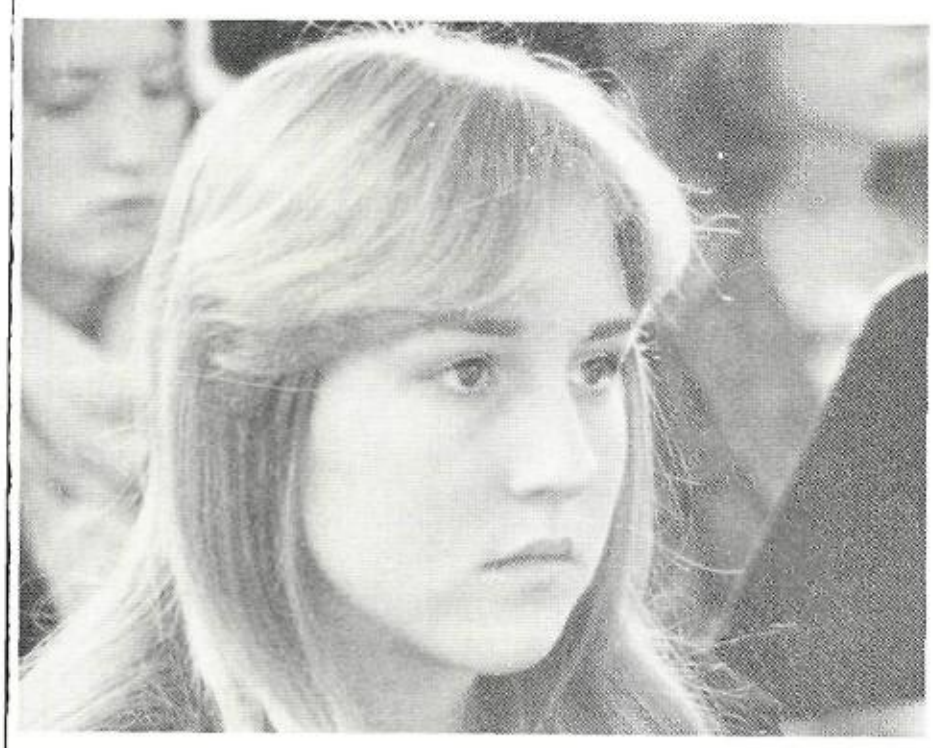
Carolyn Frambers . . . I would like to be myself, but without all my faults. I would like to be myself because I would like to live my life without following in anyone's footsteps.

Josh Hart . . . I would rather be myself than another person because if I was who I wanted to be I wouldn't have anything to strive for and that would take the challenge out of life.



Cindy Collett . . . I think I would like to have good qualities from several people. I would like to be ambitious, have patience, kindness and love. With those I can create happiness in someone's life.

Janet Gilcrease . . . I would want to be a person who cares for others and would help anyone in need. I would want to be someone who would serve the Lord daily and love his fellow man.

Greg Dulaney . . . I would be Jim Ryon because he proves that great athletes are made; not born. It proves that a man can attain anything if he wants it badly enough, as long as he is willing to sacrifice and work hard.

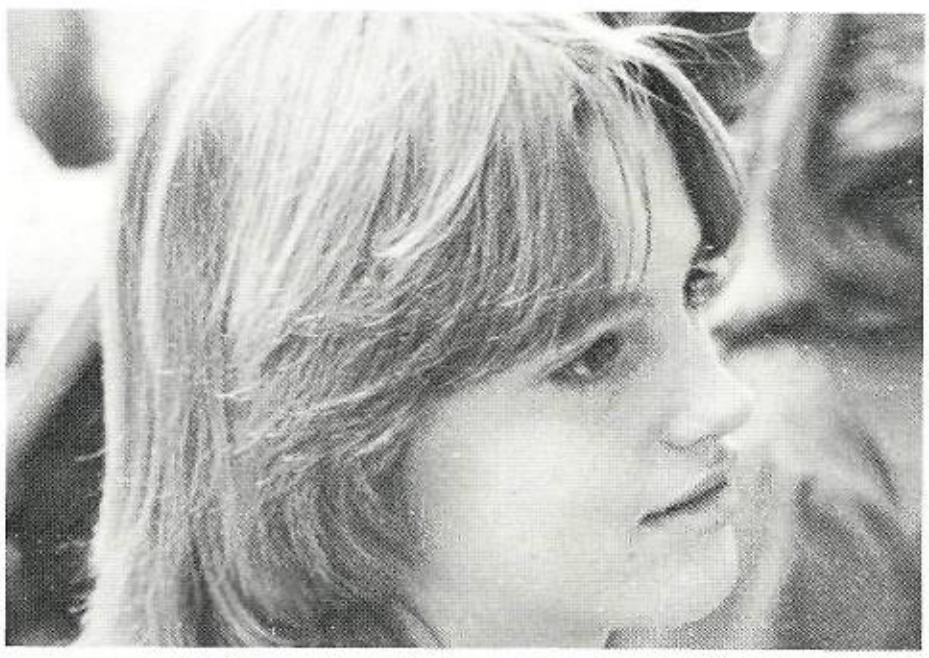
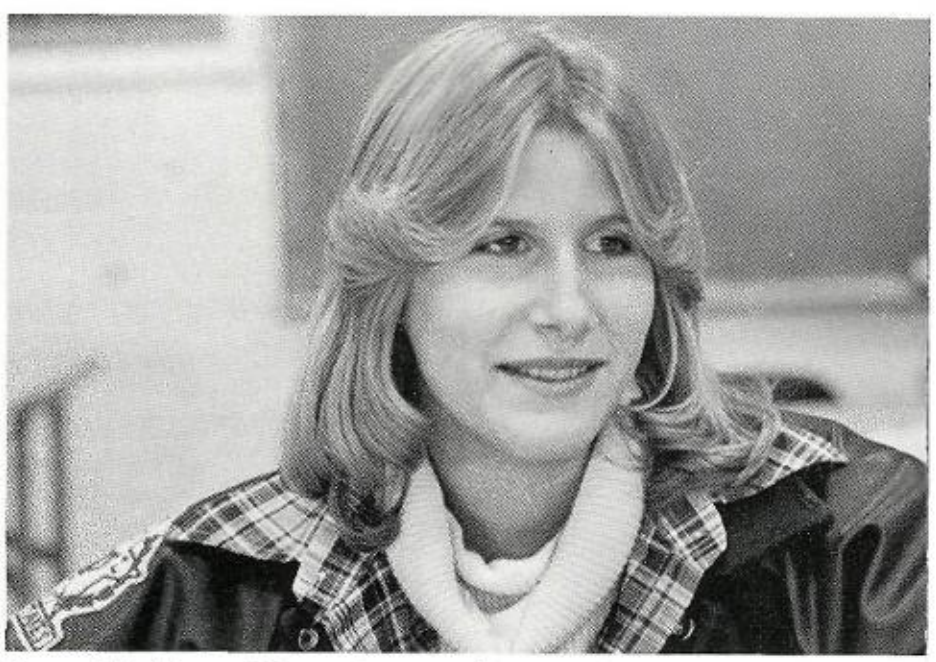
Cheryl Wilbur . . . If I could be whatever I wanted to be I would be the answer to all the problems of the world.

Debbie Welch . . . If I could do anything I wanted to do I would go around the world and find out how people in other countries live and then be thankful that God put me here where I am.

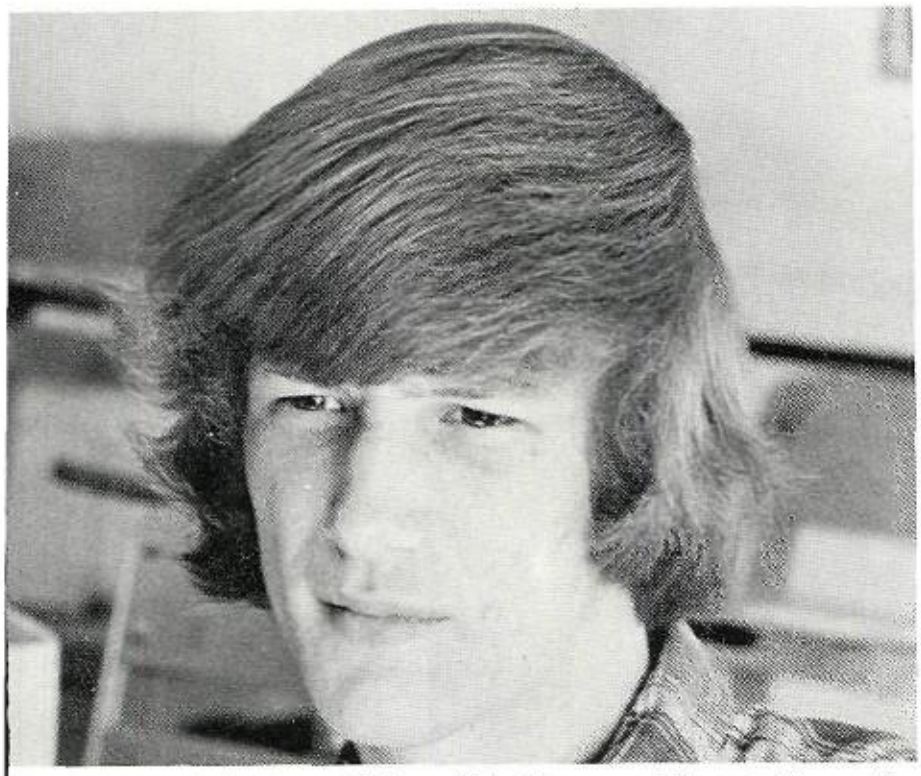
Cheryl Rice . . . I would wish to continue my education so that I could help others that are less fortunate than I.



Stacy Presswood . . . To gain the most of happiness and success throughout my life.

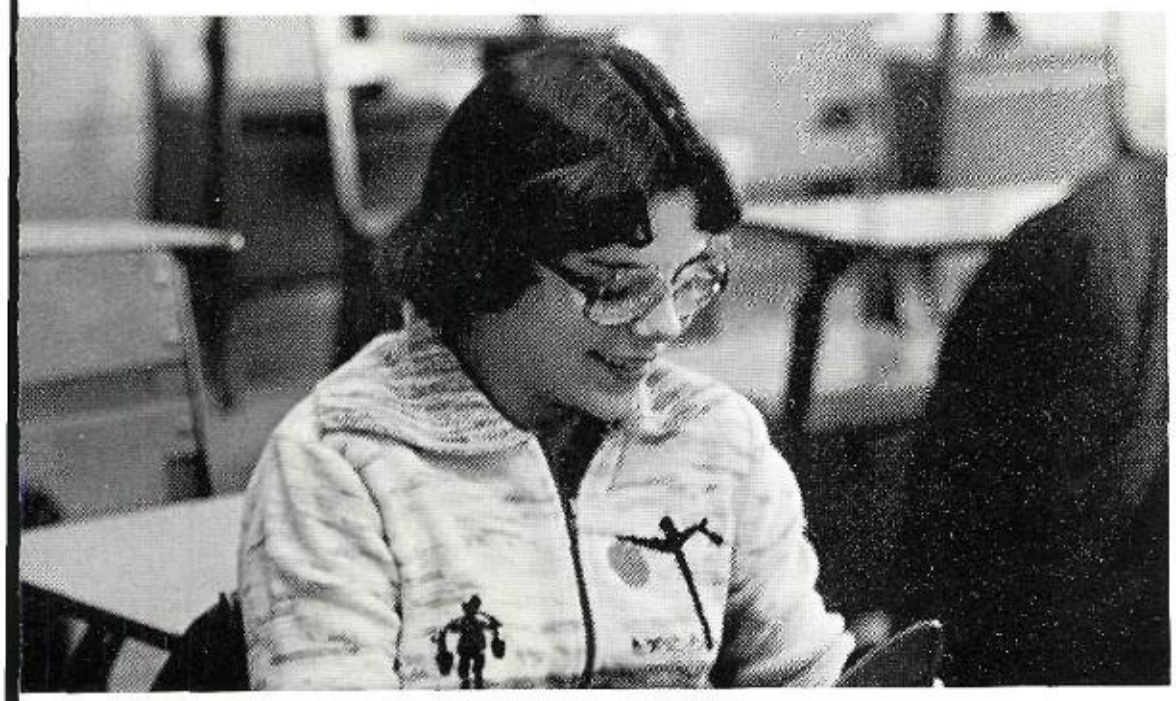


Deanna Brinkley . . . If I were given one wish to do whatever I wanted my wish wou be to help others who are less fortunate than we here at Brewer. I would help the to get adequate schools and teachers so, by doing this they would get a bett education. I feel with a better education it would help them to receive more from li during their school years and after.



John Hibbs . . . If I had one wish, it would be that man could learn to live together harmoniously with his fellow man. And that all diseases could be cured.

Leslie Houchin . . . I'm not sure what I would wish for afterwards, but first I'd want a million more wishes, so I would have plenty to spare.



Raye Lynn Hall . . . If I were given one wish to do whatever I wanted it would be to help others as much as possible in realizing how vitally important it is to strive for the highest possible. Once you are satisfied with your education, I feel you will be able to find happiness in your work, life, and with God.

Dana Deshong . . . If I had one wish to be who I wanted to be, I would want to be myself because it's more important to be yourself than to be what someone else wants you to be. Each person has a different purpose and was put on this earth for that purpose.

Linda Ferguson . . . I would like to wish that I'd accomplish every goal I set because setting goals and accomplishing them is what makes you as a better individual.

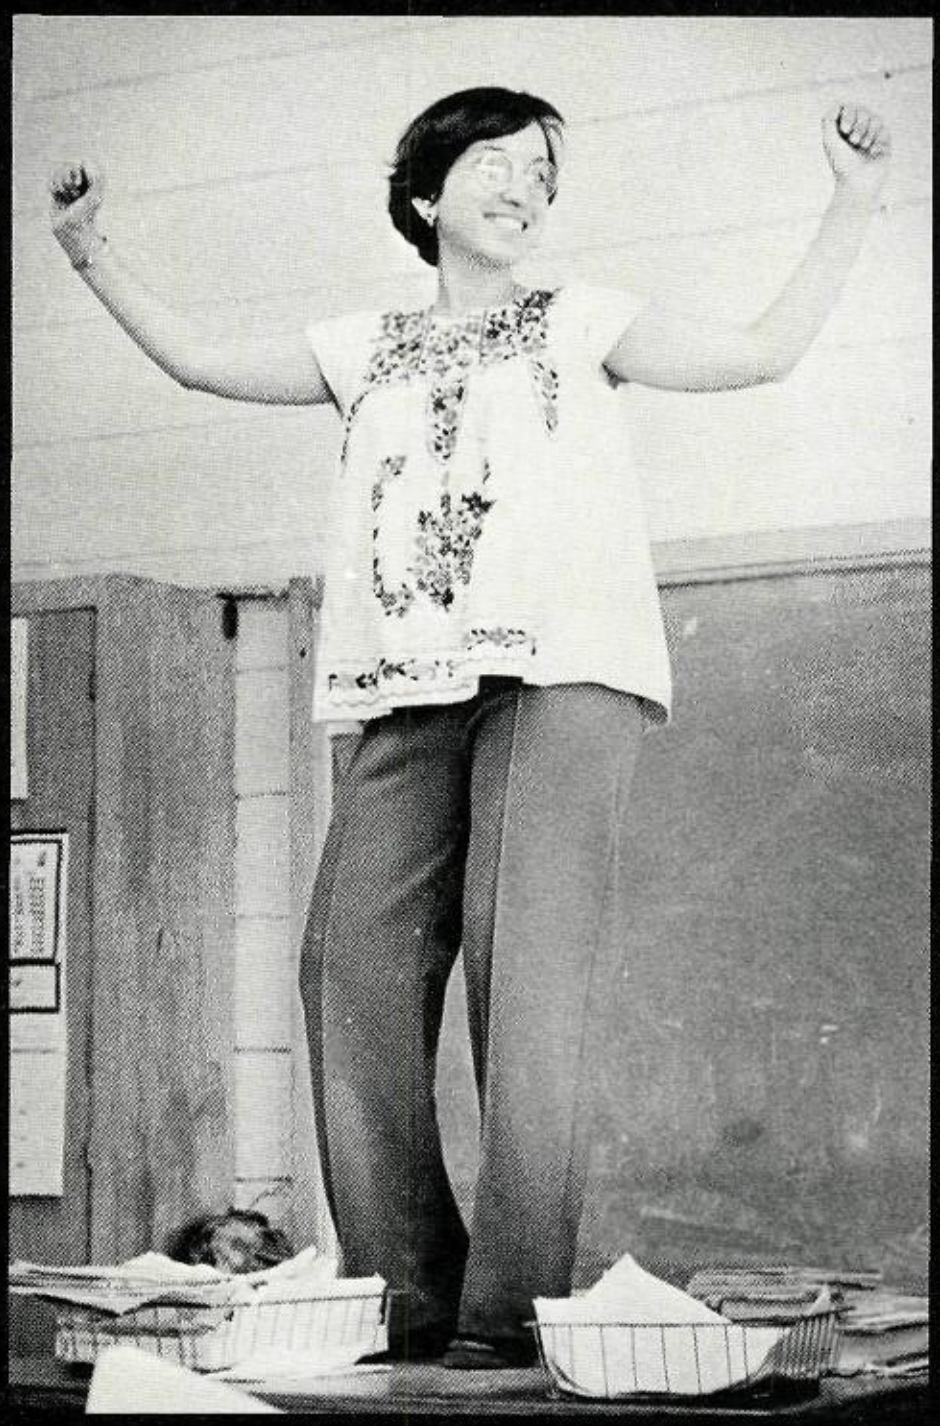
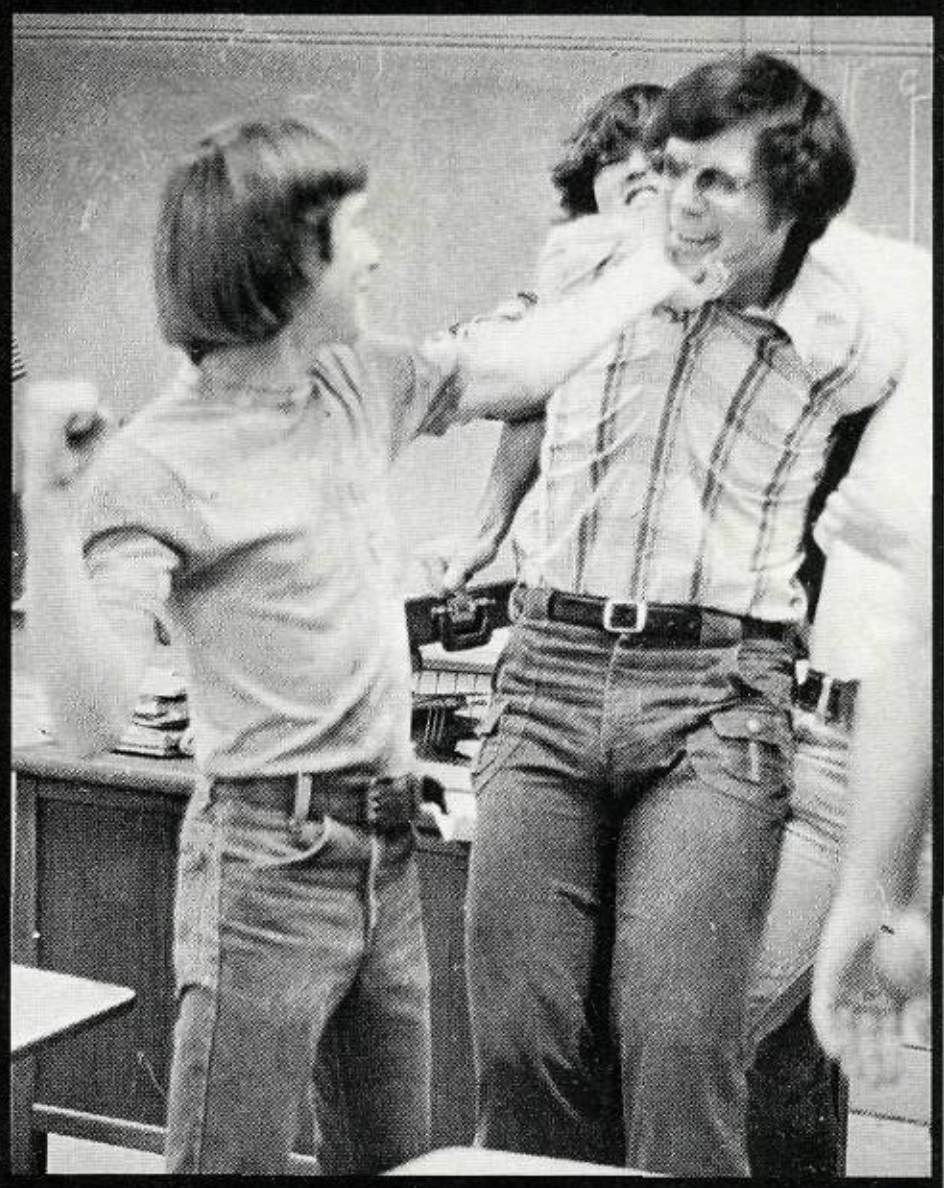
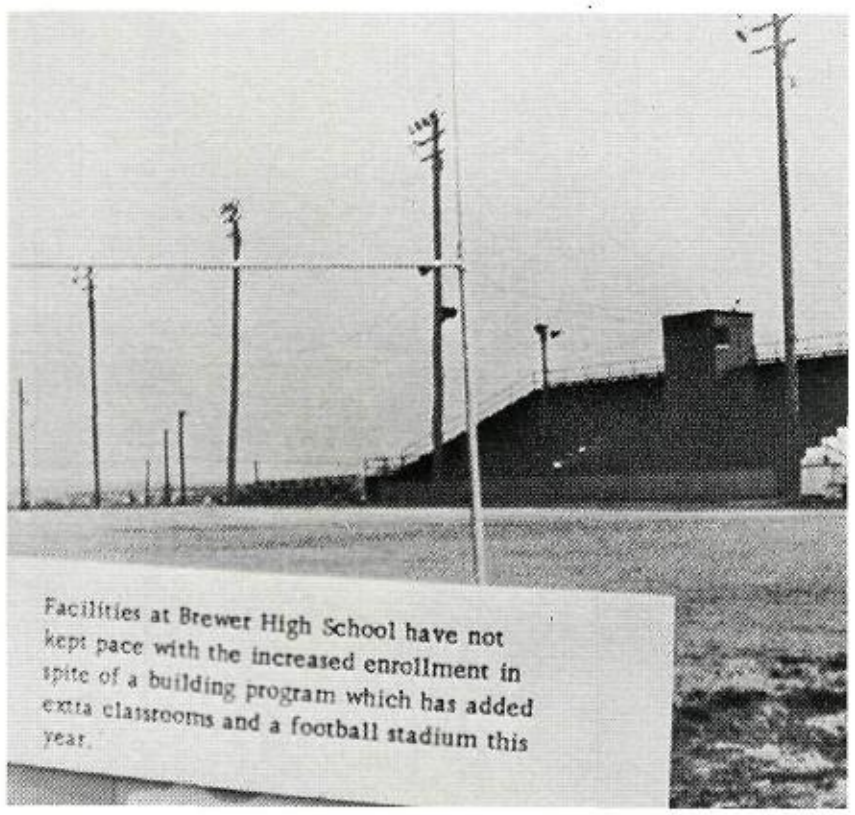
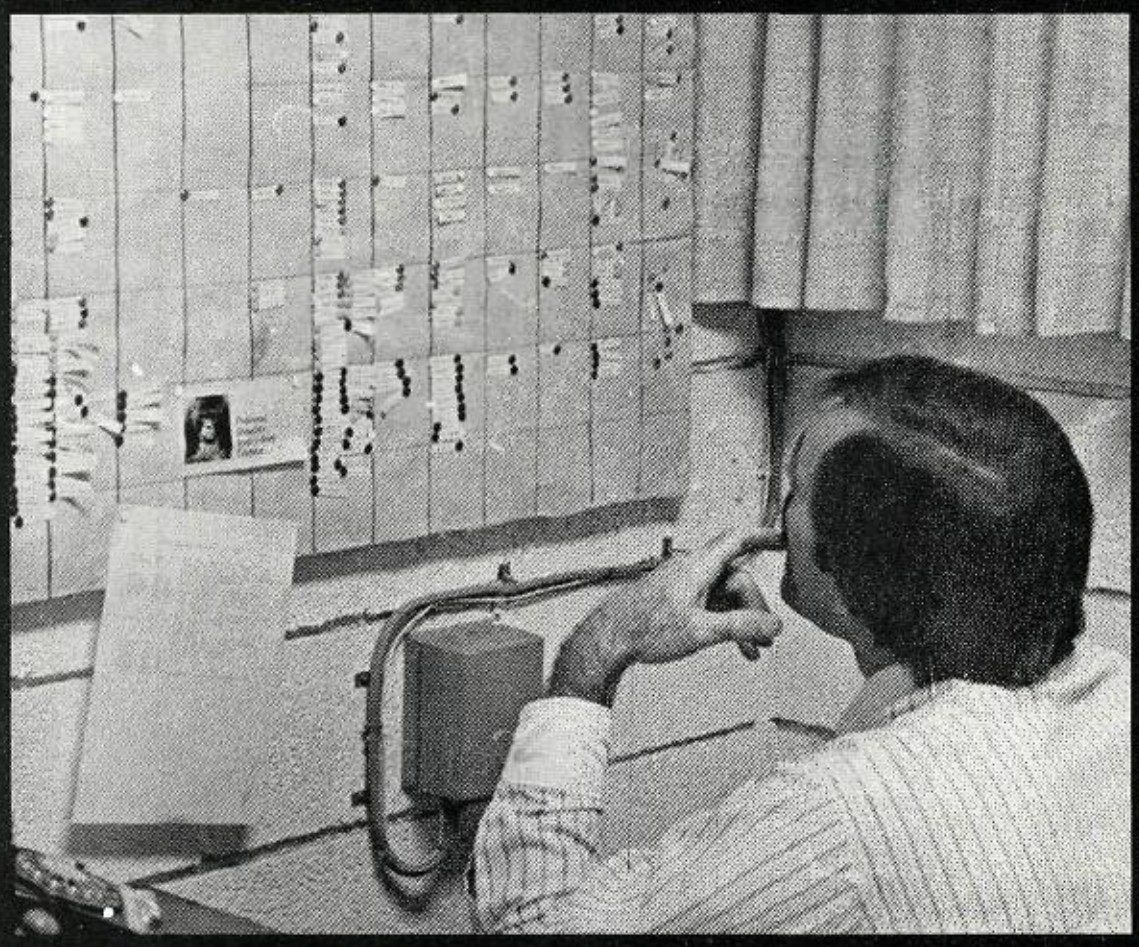
Authorities







Facilities at Brewer High School have not kept pace with the increased enrollment in spite of a building program which has added extra classrooms and a football stadium this year.



Times have changed since Brewer's first year but the teachers' jobs are still about the same — picking up "cheat sheets", giving pop tests, assigning work — all in a teacher's day. They, then as now, scan the halls holding down their territory. In '52 when thirty teachers were hired to "learn" the students the three R's, they helped the students in any way they could, as the over 50 teachers do today in courses ranging from cosmetology to sociology.

As B.H.S. continually attempts to expose its students to the newest and most modernized courses and facilities, its staff has also given way to more specialized teaching techniques. As new and different people arrive, changes begin, such as the library addition and new science labs. Brewer's outward appearance may change — students and faculty will come and go — but amidst all this reform the teachers will be close at hand to lend support and keep our minds on the upward trend.

OUR POLICY
SUNSET THEATRE

Because of our belief that there is a definite need in our community for a Theatre, we constantly strive to present the finest entertainment possible for the entire family at a price that is exceptionally low when compared with other types of entertain-

Since 1952 many people have given Brewer support in different areas. One of the most important of these areas, to us, are the patrons of the annual. Without these patrons, Brewer would be unable to have an annual or either the prices would be too high to ensure availability to everyone. Many of our patrons are traditional, lending their support throughout the years, while others are new businesses or just realizing the benefits of our advertising. We would like to thank all of our patrons throughout the years and would like to remind all Brewer students to keep these people and their businesses in mind while shopping.

And Now a Word From Our Sponsors . . .

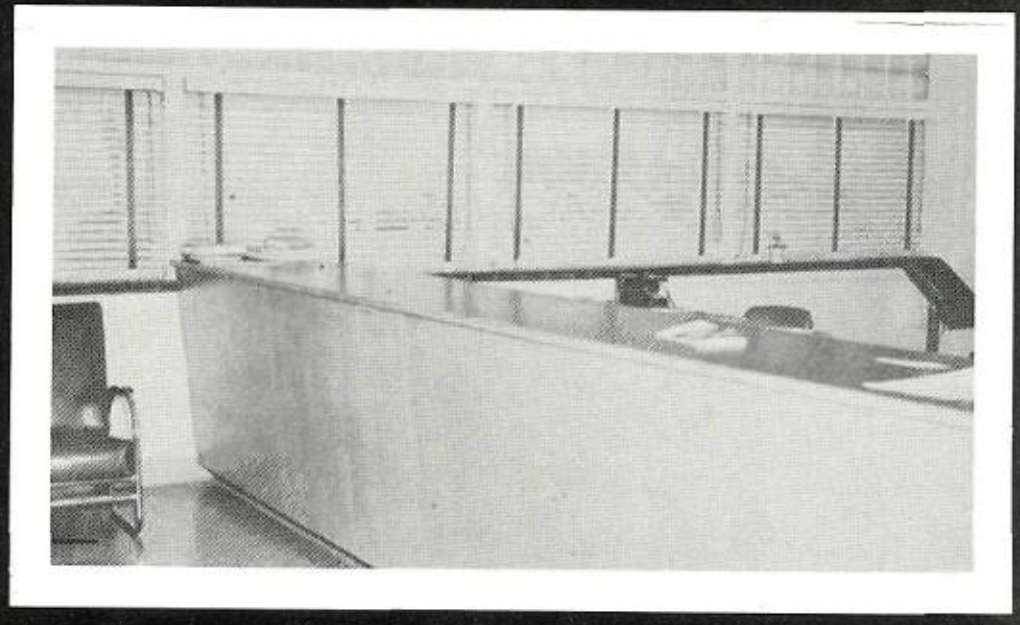
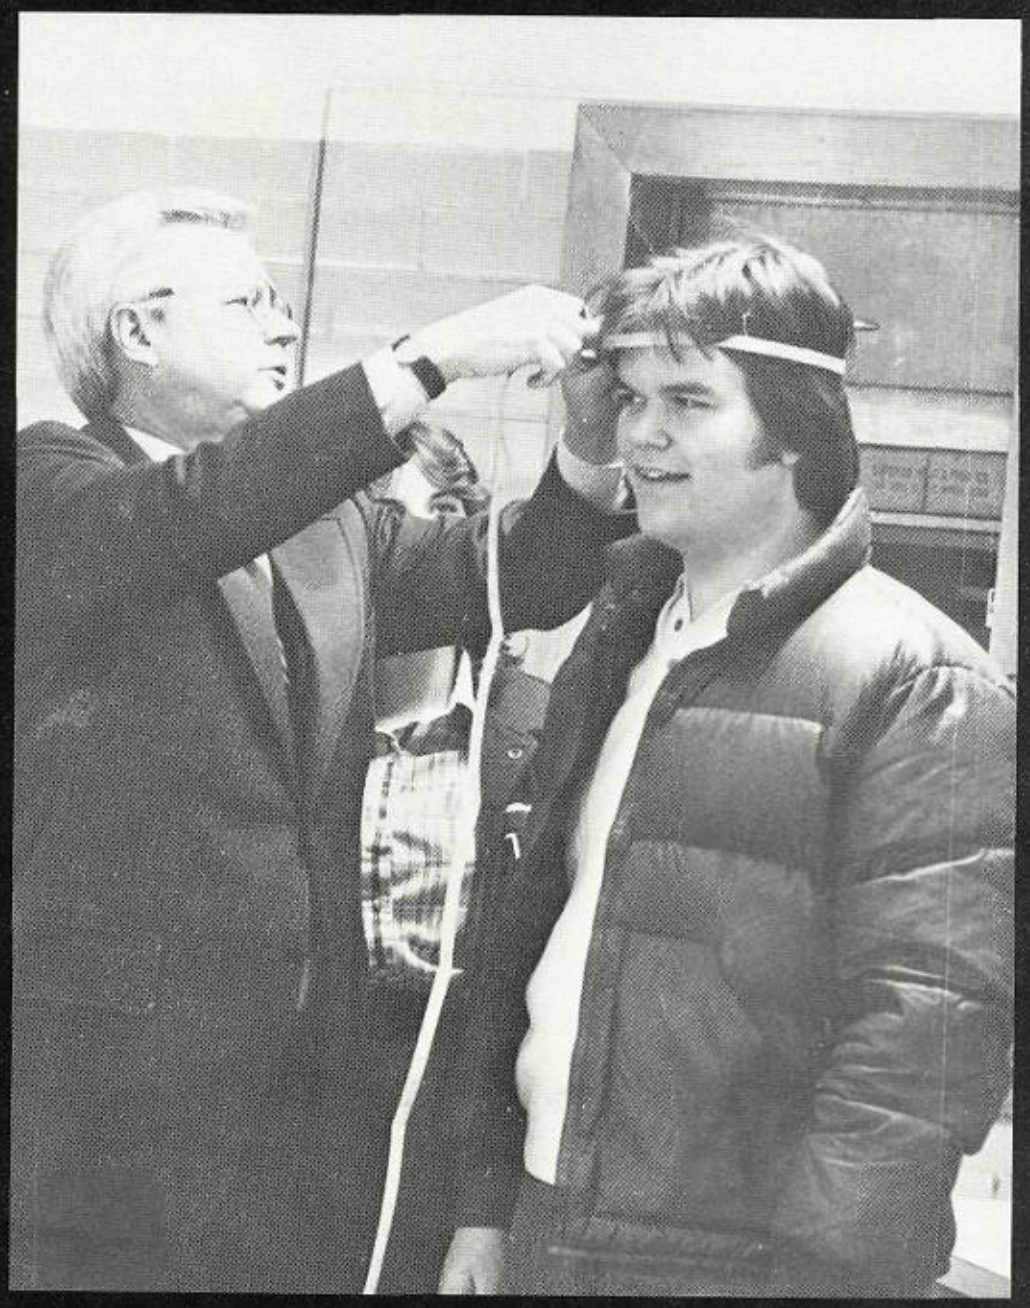
Closing

In 1976, a school bond election was passed by the citizens of White Settlement for the improvement of the school system. Now a new elementary school, new science labs, gym floor and library are all complete. While these improvements may not benefit the Senior Class of 1978 they will be an asset to future students. For the first time in many years term themes will be made a little easier and bones will jarr a little less on the floors. Finally it will be warm in the winter and cool in the summer instead of vise-versa. Eye strain is lessened and the looks of the school are greatly improved. Educational opportunities will soon be advanced beyond their present point of existence.

On Brewer's golden anniversary we will once more look back but the effect of the improvements will be unrecognizable, as it is now to the class of '53. While our memories of Brewer will exist in the present, the school will grow and exist for the future. Every class has a different image of Brewer. Different classes and building structures — steady yet flexible, changing but not changing, C. F. Brewer High School will always strive for individuality and the next 25 years.

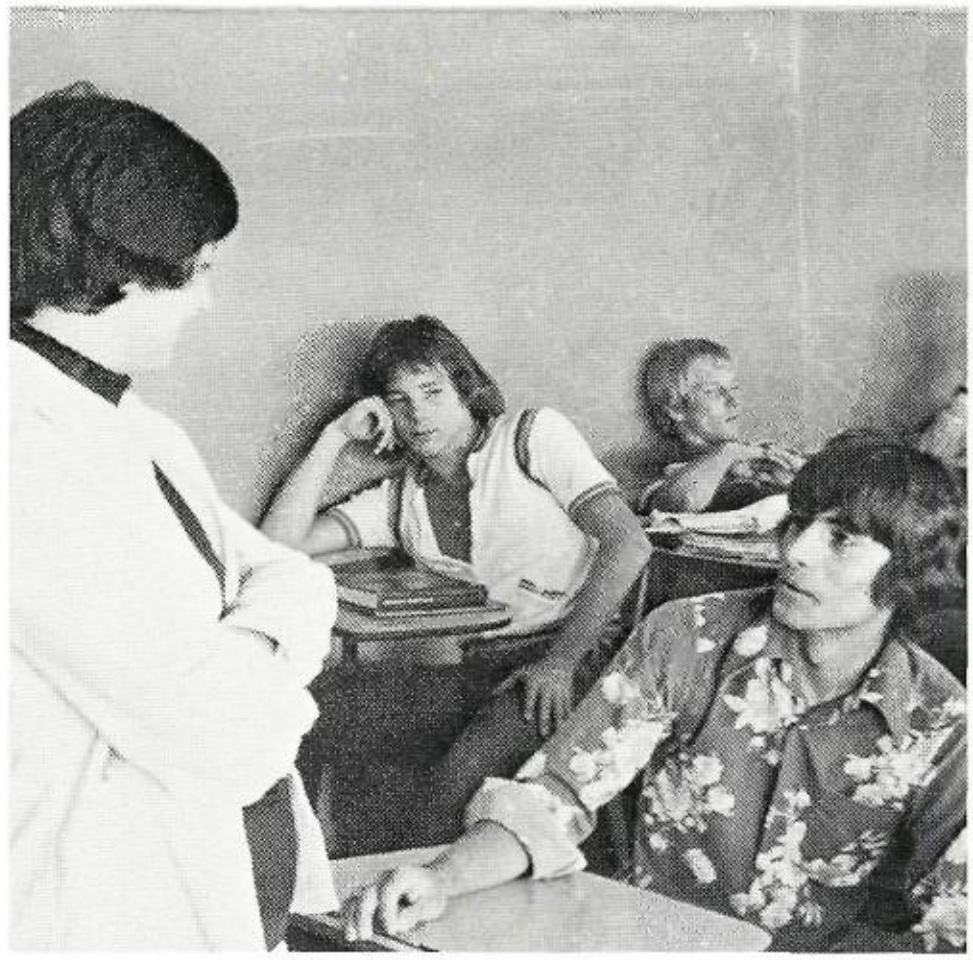




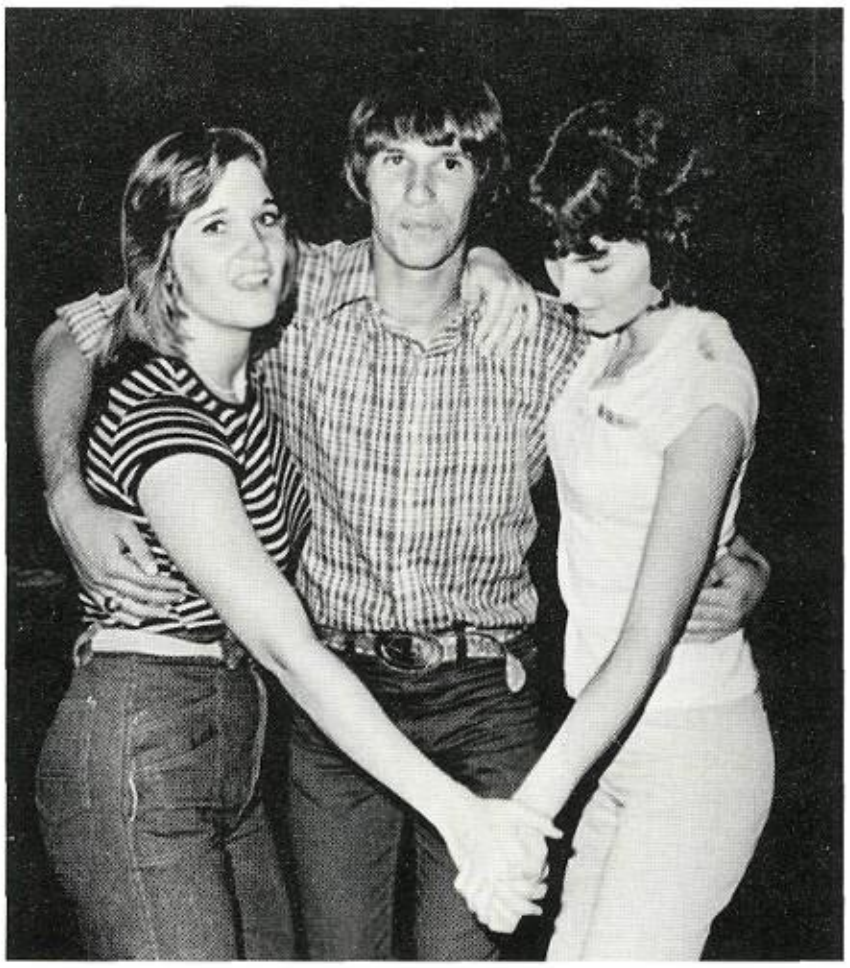
August

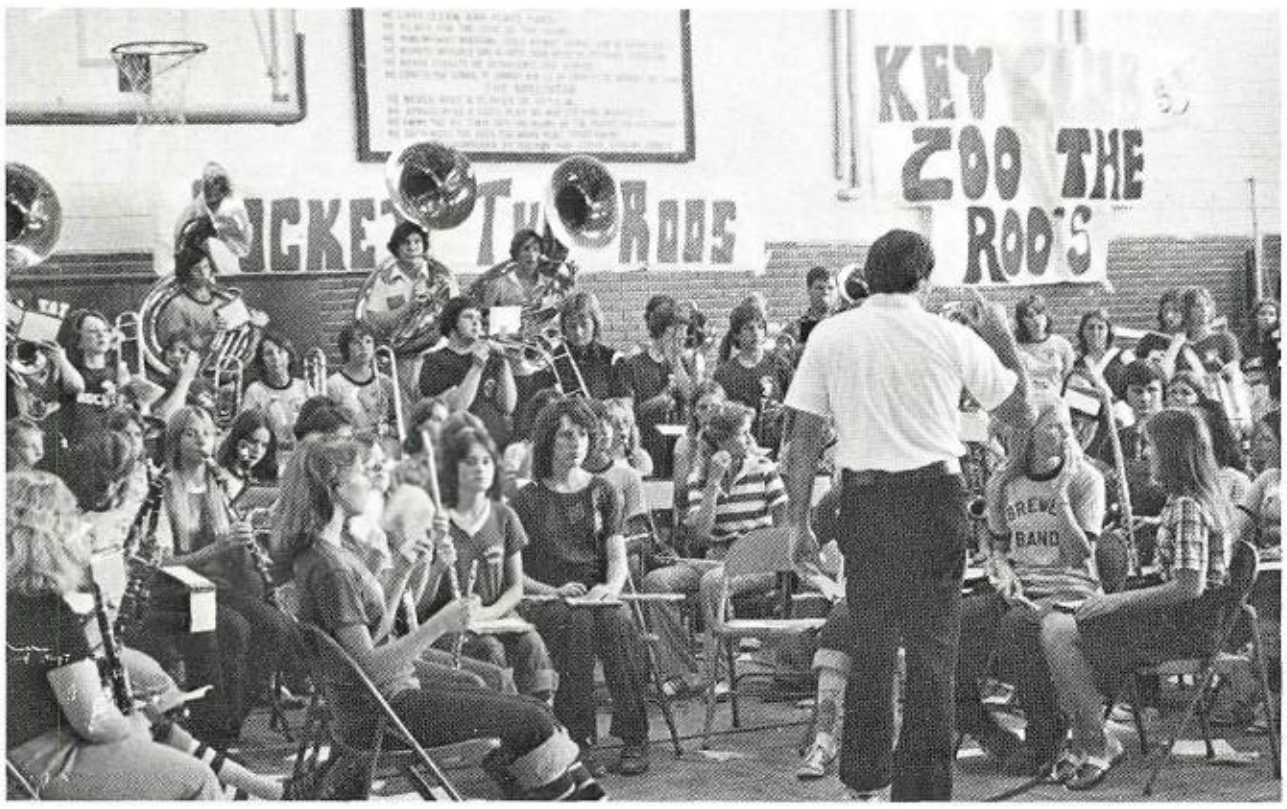
Laughter and chatter filled Brewer High School, we returned, eager to renew old friendships and reluctant to explore new textbooks. Football practice started, shaping up the hopeful Bears to a level of competition. The Student Council sponsored the "Howdy Dance" to welcome the new as well as old students back to the chore of learning. The Band picked up the beat for another year of early morning music, while the Drill team, flag corps, and majorettes started their resplendent routines.

We returned expecting air-conditioned comfort but instead got into the middle of remodeling. As we were basked in the August heat, we looked forward to the cool autumn just ahead . . .



September





. . . September found us in the school with the insulation bare and the pipes gleaming in full view. The first few hints of fall air peeked around the corner to warn us of what was to come. Football was not at its best, the Bears winning only one in five games. The spirit remained high, as Homecoming loomed near. Shopping sprees, trips to the florist and decorating, made up a large portion of the week. The big day finally arrived — halls decorated to welcome exes. The homecoming queen was crowned and anticipation of the homecoming dance put a festive end to an exciting week. September also saw the Whiz Kids debut as students held practice matches against each other and faculty members. Many students looked toward October in hopes of colder "football season" weather . . .

October

. . . With October came the Homecoming Dance and the Queen and her escort dancing the traditional Homecoming dance. The Mighty Bears then went on a winning streak beating Northside, Azle, and Castleberry with only one loss to Boswell. As Halloween drew near the Halloween dance was well under planning, bringing into our midst the "Mystery Person". Finally Halloween arrived and the students were amazed at this "new" type of dance. Among the scattered ghostsgoblinsgoulswitcheswerewolvesandweirdos the booths attracted many of the moonlight movers. As the witching hour passed and November started the frightening souls turned back into mild-mannered(?) earthlings . . .

A new leaky roof?

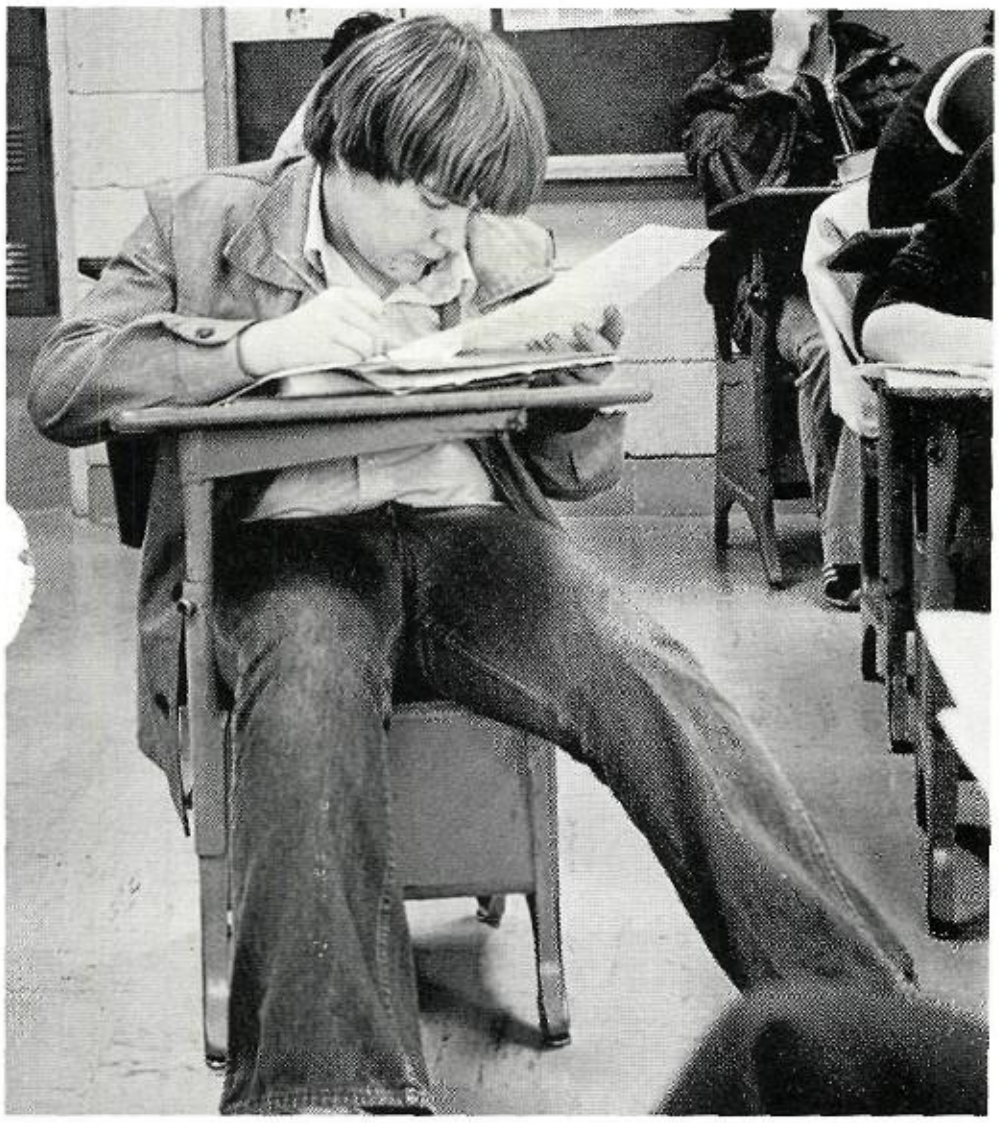
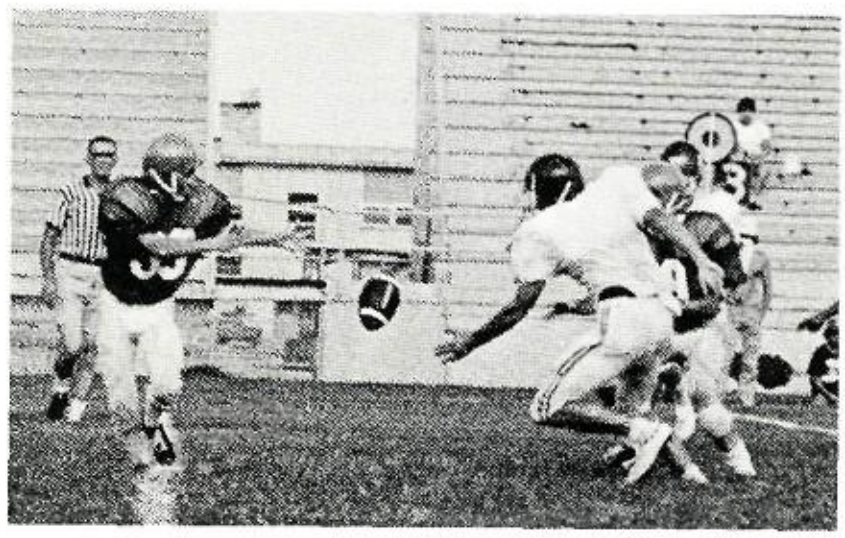
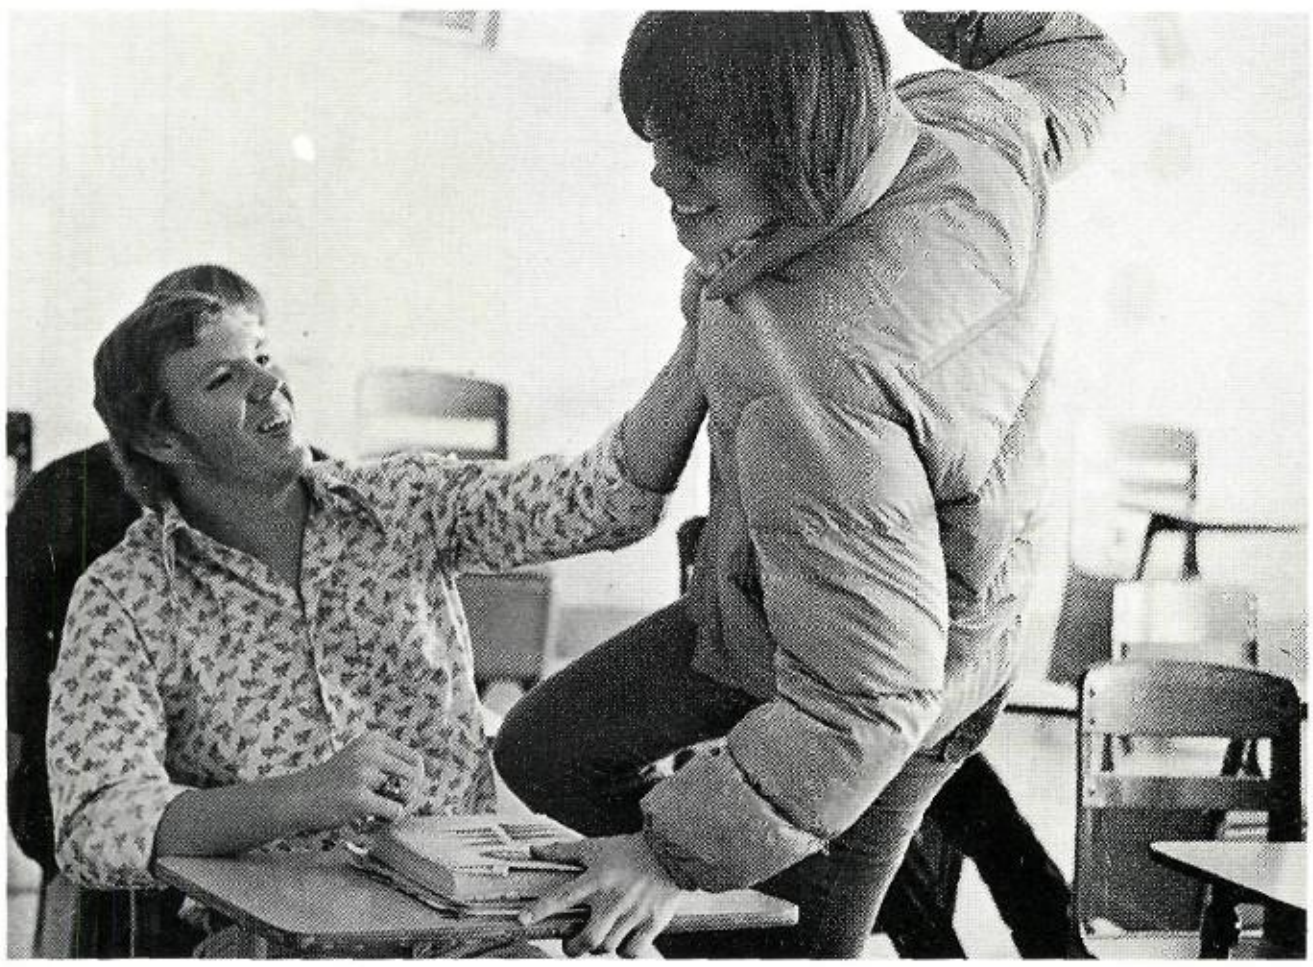
Our teachers????

November



. . . As November started, it was beginning to hint of the holidays ahead. A food drive was held so that needy families could share in the Thanksgiving spirit. Contests were abundant as the band went to U. I. L. and achieved a superior rating. The majorettes received awards including 1st and 2nd place trophies. The Juniors ordered their class rings and the first basketball games got under way. After Thanksgiving the month's end found everyone high in spirits and looking forward to the Christmas holidays . . .

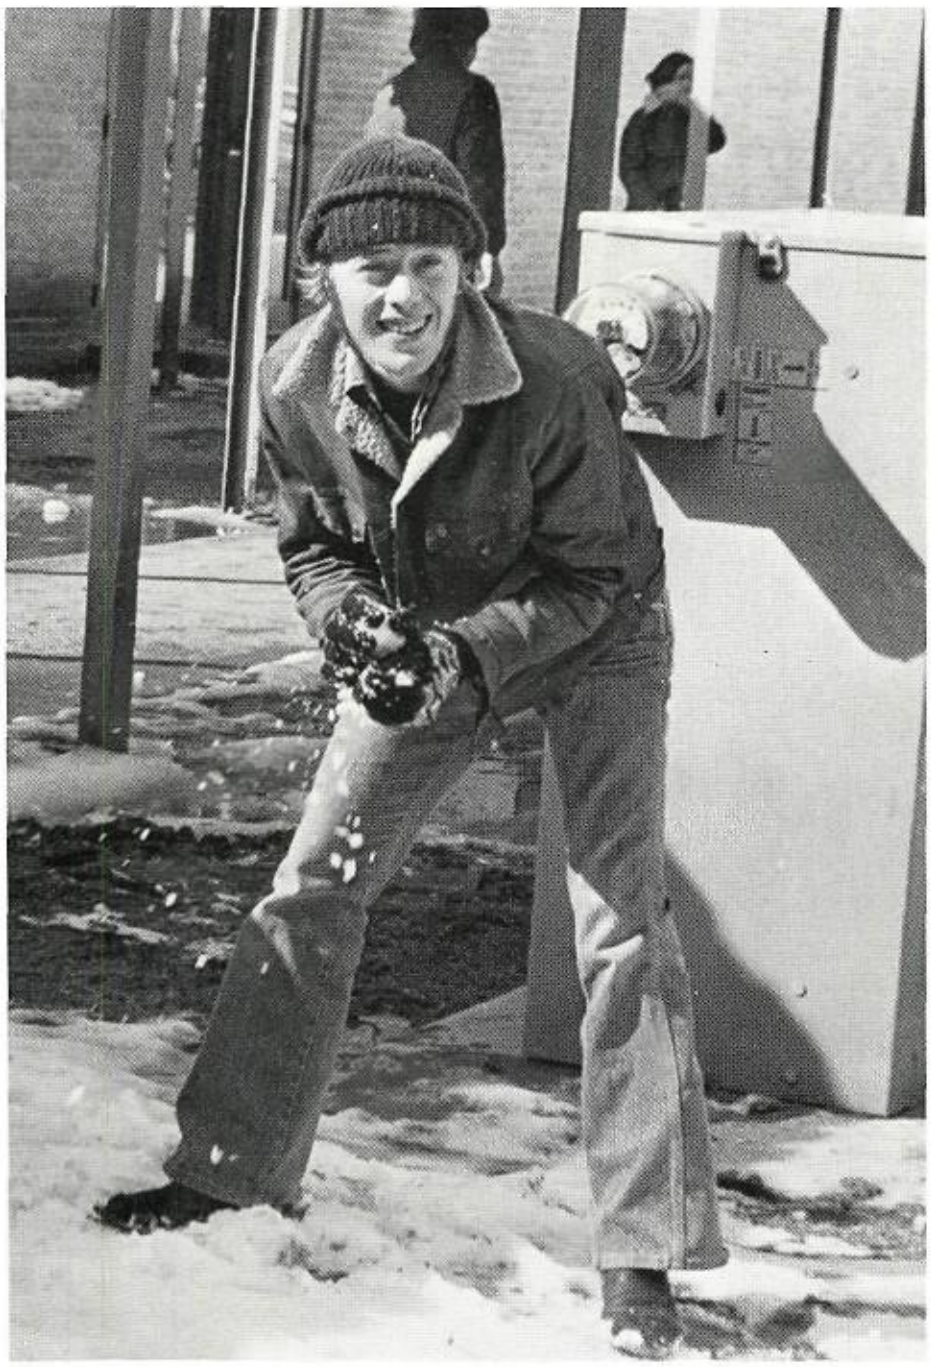


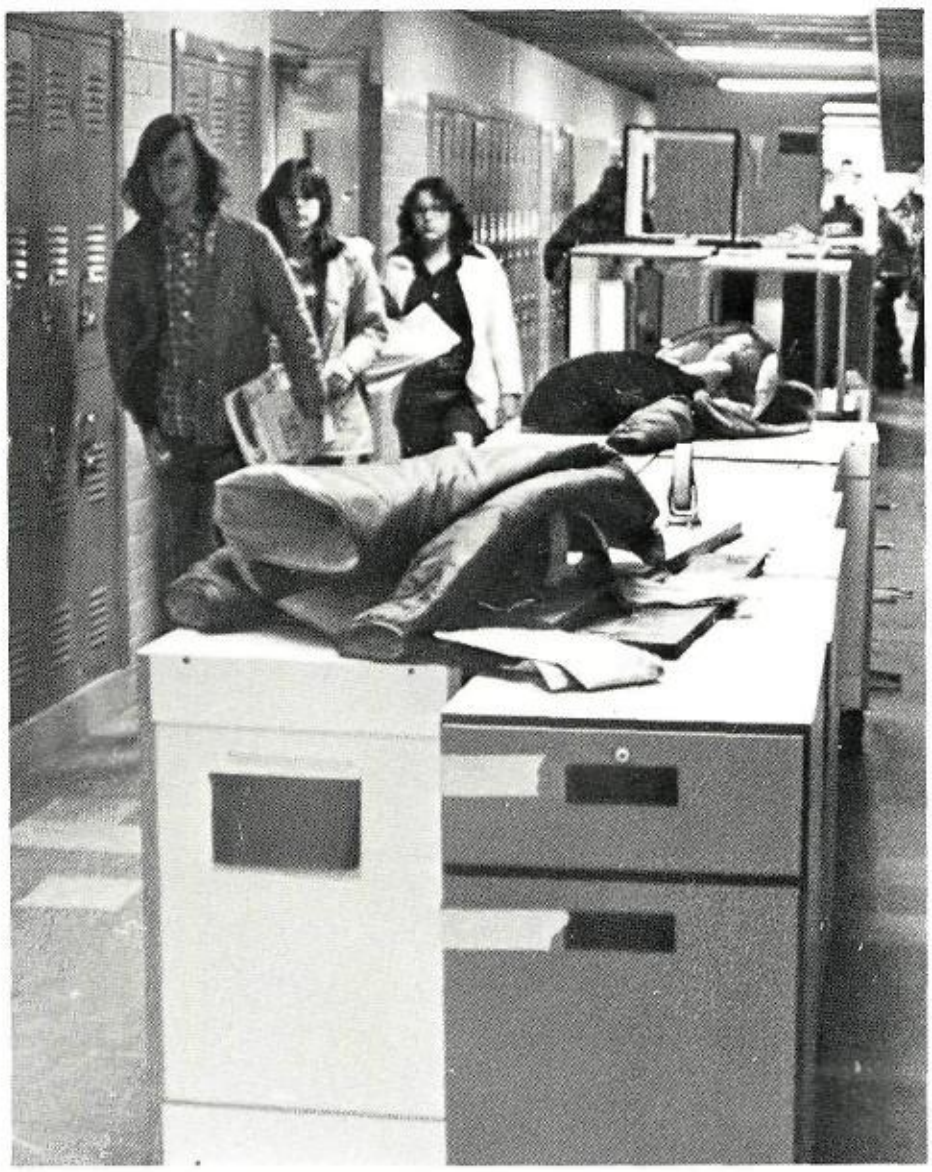


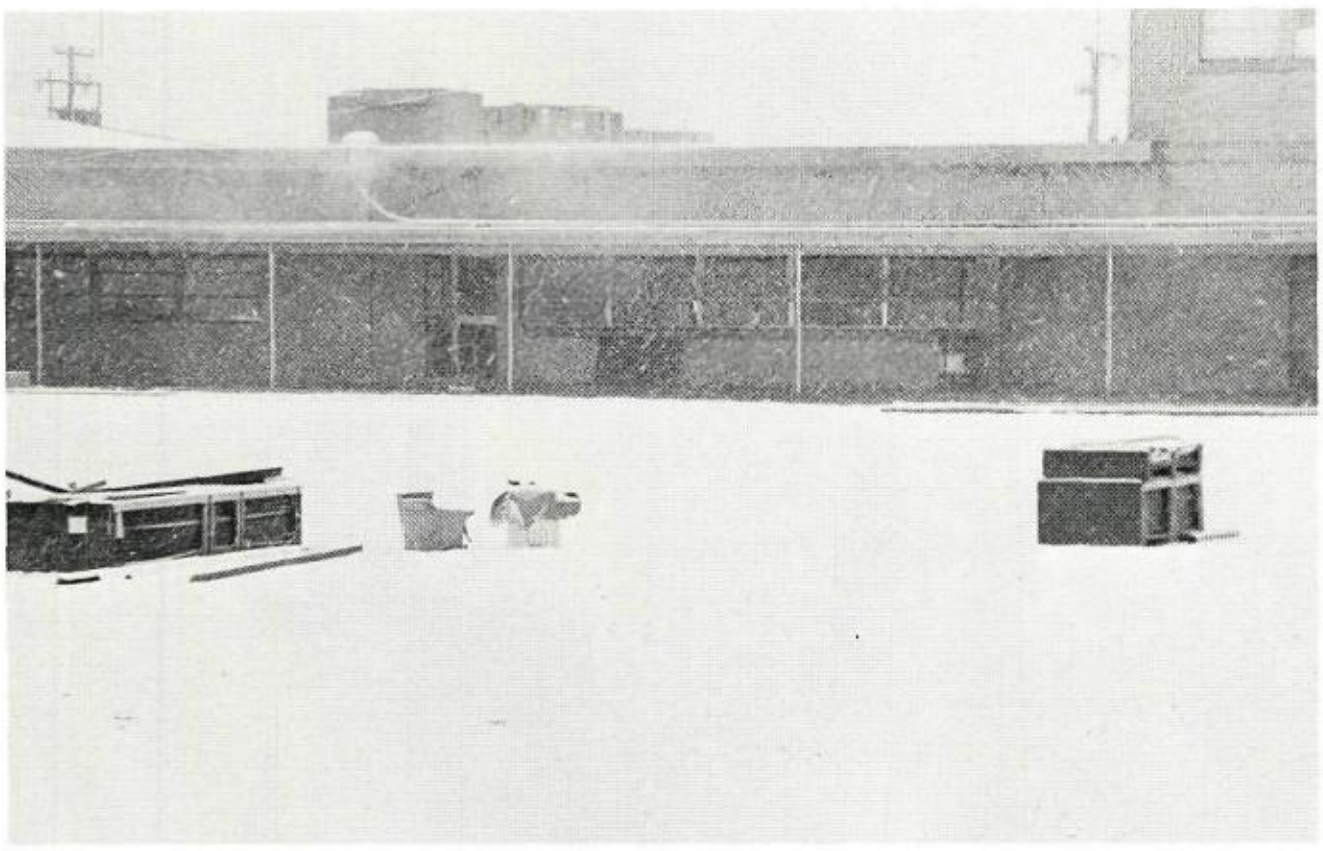
December

. . . As the busiest month of the year began it proved the unending care and charity-mindedness of Brewer students. The clubs and organizations were busy celebrating the Christmas holidays with continuing parties, gift exchanging, and class decorating. The Jr. class went to work selling singing Christmas cards, as the Student Council was busy selling Candy Canes and pushing the annual Toy Drive for needy families. The National Honor Society took upon itself to once more hold the Christmas party for needy children. The basketball season was well under way with the teams looking hopefully toward the district games. The end of December came and the New Year was drawing closer . . .

January '78



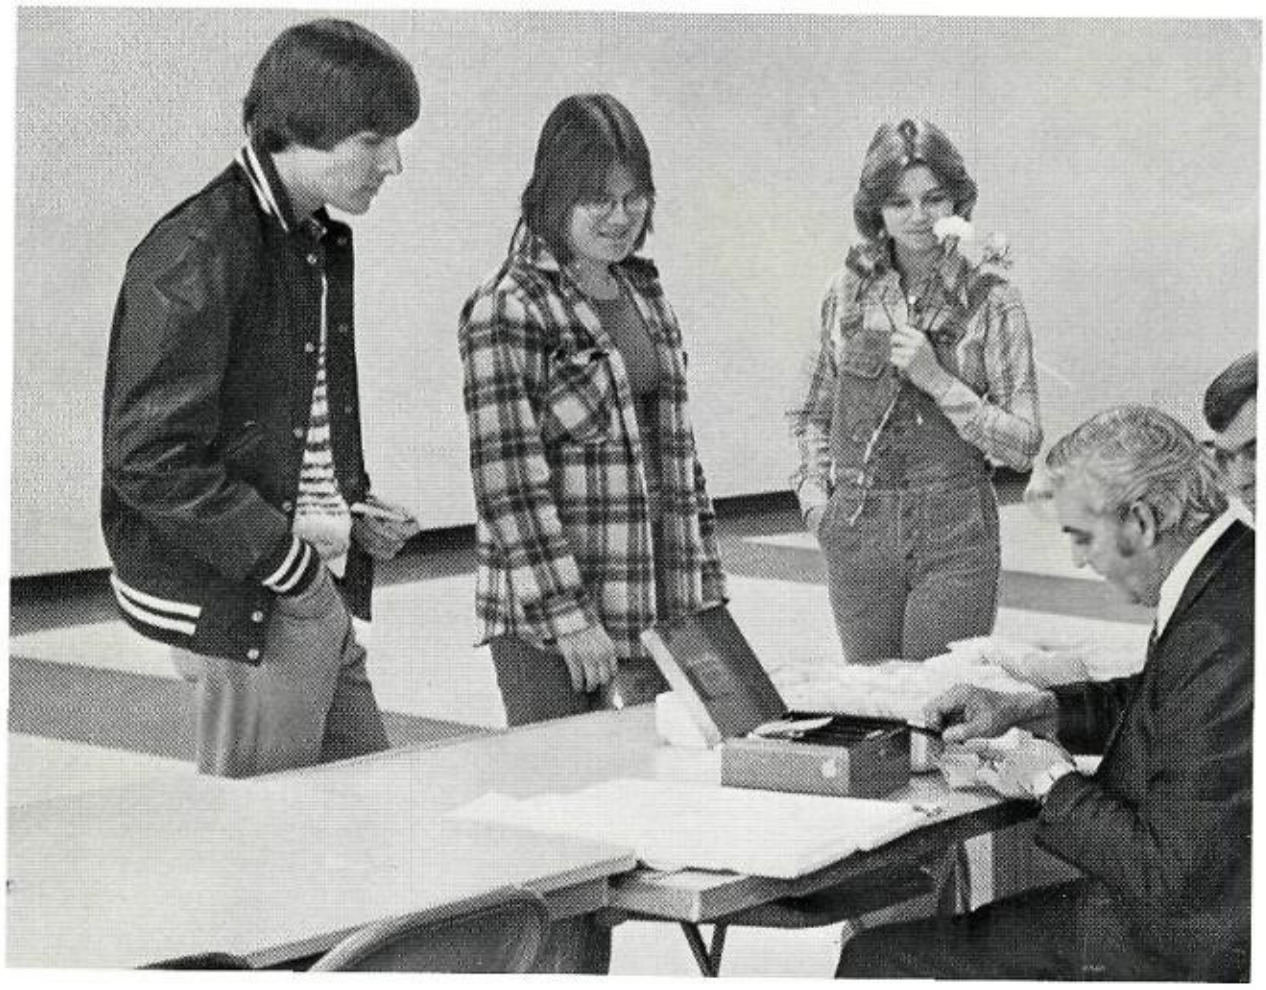


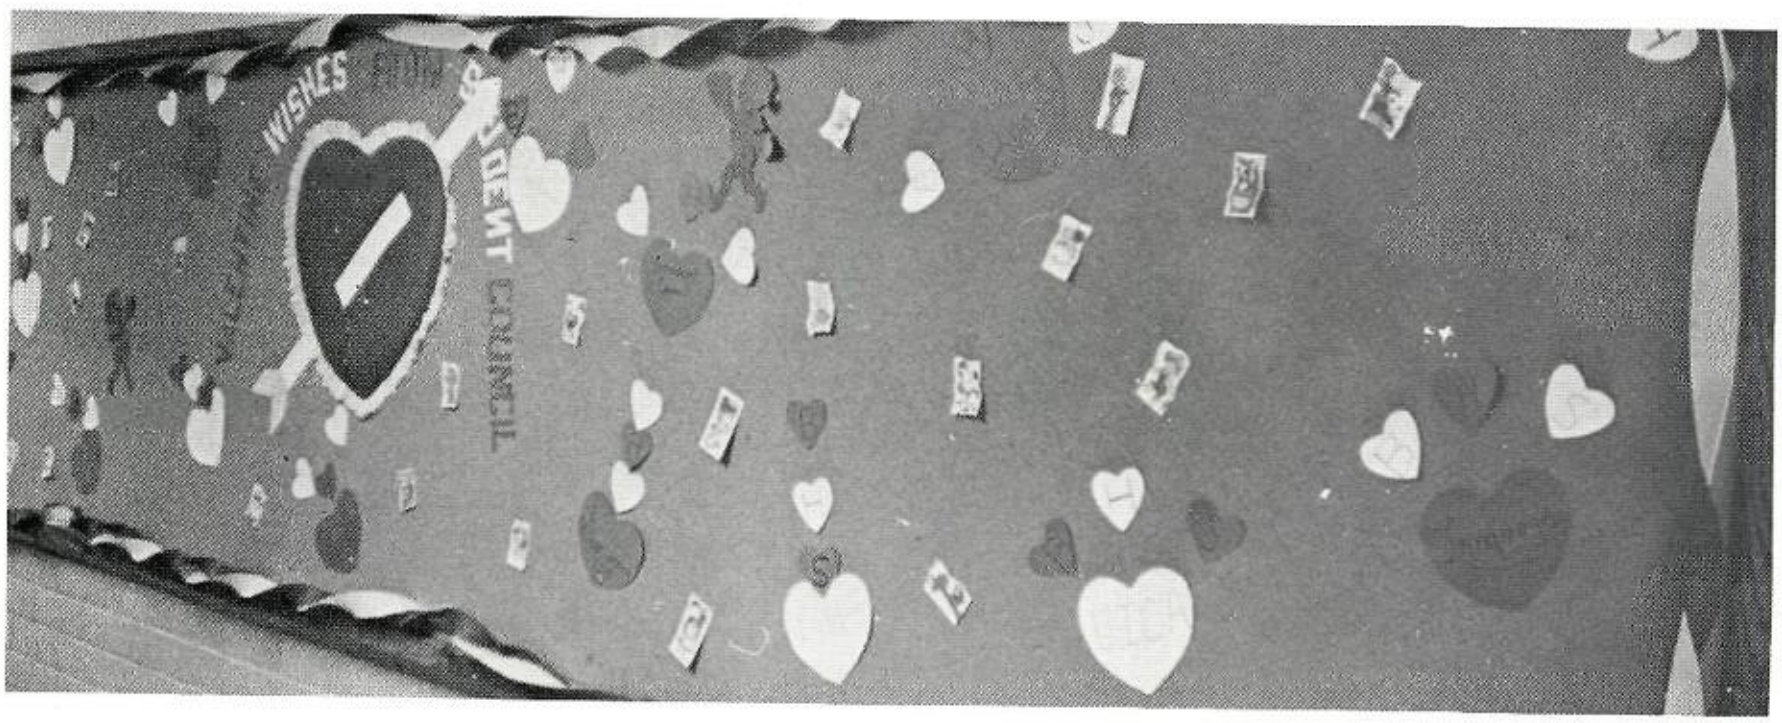


. . . January ushered in the New Year bringing with it ice, snow and slush and the dreaded Flu Bug. The Student Council sponsored Ranch Day with the drug store cowboys making their appearance competing in events ranging from Chug-a-lug to the Chiquita Race. The school spirit was better than ever when students went crazy writing their names for the KXOL spirit contest. The NHS inducted its new members and the drama department chose the cast for the play "Reserve Two For Murder." January flew by and all at once it was February . . .

February

. . . Record-breaking snow (ugh), ice (whoops!), and slush (yuk) brought in February and the old saying "it never snows in Fort Worth" was long forgotten. The Stock Show was held and the Jr.'s began selling McDonald tickets again as the Sr.'s collected papers. Brewer hosted the 3rd annual Jazz Festival. The band and drill team prepared for contest. St. Valentines Day appeared and the Jr.'s were busy selling carnations and lollipops (?). In sports, tennis and golf started in full swing, while basketball wound down. The Drama dept. presented its play and was well received.





The Jr.'s got their class rings and began to think about next year. And to the Seniors graduating started to become more and more of a reality as they ordered their invitations and caps and gowns. And in this month the goal was reached—the annual was FINISHED.

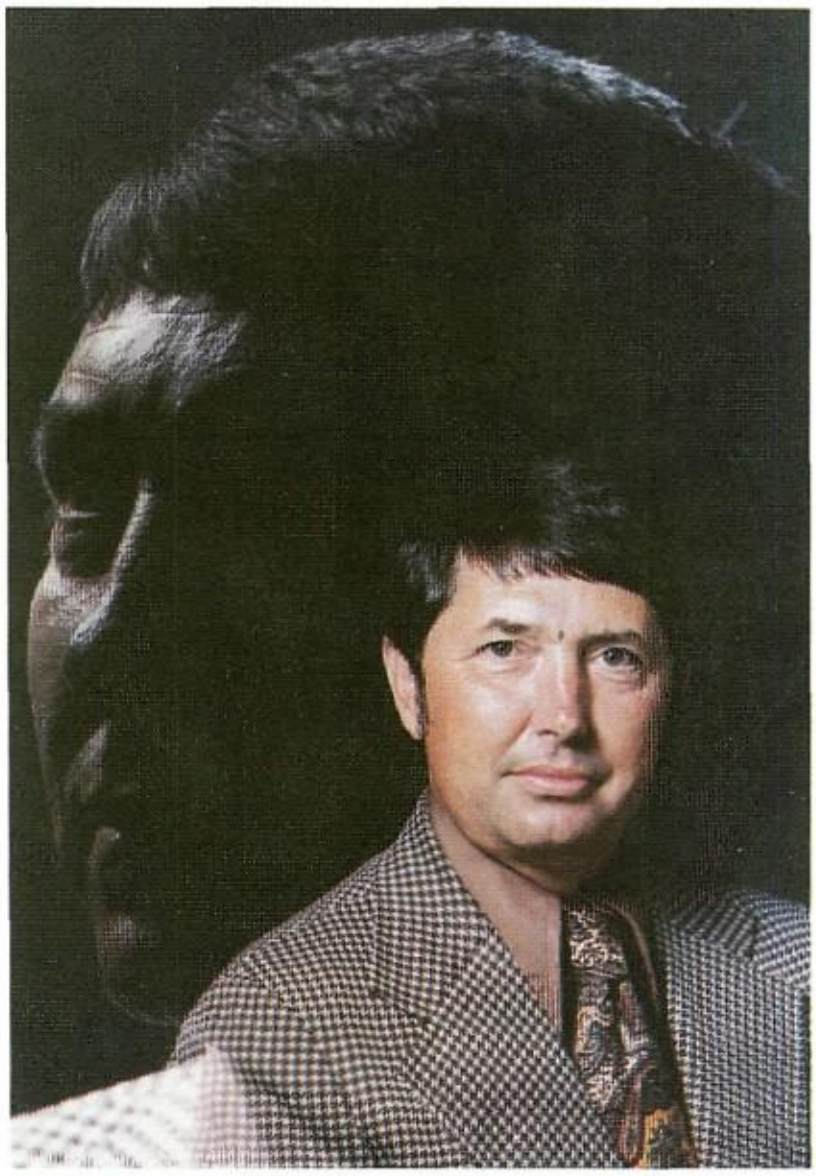
VOE Advances to State

The Brewer VOE team this year won in district parliamentary procedures. From this point they go to San Antonio for State Competition.

Whiz Kids put up good show in 1st year

Under the leadership of Mr. Mastandrea and Ms. McDonald the Whiz Kids won their first match against Trimble Tech 345-80. They then went to Hockaday and scored another win 260-210. From this they go to the quarterfinals against Trinity Christian.

Dr. Nelson Eichman
"The Silver Anniversary"



The Silver Anniversary of Brewer High School is a very special occasion not only to our present student body but also to those alumni who have witnessed the enormous educational progress in the past twenty-five years. Since Brewer became a high school in 1952, a feeling of dedication and commitment has always been the driving force characteristic of teachers and administrators alike. Now, twenty-five years later, that same educational philosophy prevails. Our high school is steadily earning the respect it deserves in academics, extra-curriculars, and athletics in the Fort Worth community and the state of Texas!

Throughout the history of BHS, five superintendents have contributed to its progress and development in their own special way. During my administration which began some seven years ago, I, along with the community and school board, made a pledge to upgrade the physical and academic standards of our high school in order to achieve excellence in education. Now, during the 1977-78 school year, several improvements have become a reality. A new library and science facility, an expanded cafeteria, a renovated gymnasium, and central air-conditioning represent the necessary changes in the physical structure.

Currently, administrators are busily engaged in curriculum revision. To begin our next 25 years, Brewer will boast strong vocational programs, a solid core of basic and fundamental classes, a college preparatory curriculum, and a new program designed to accommodate the academically "gifted and talented" student.

What has necessitated all of these changes in recent years? The answer to this question is quite simple: You the students of Brewer High School. Today, our students are more technically skilled, more academically talented, and more aware of the demands and realities of their world environment than ever before! A greater percentage of graduates have expressed both the need and desire to attend college and it is the obligation of the educational structure of Brewer High School to properly prepare them for this endeavor.

Certainly, at this stage, all of our educational goals have not been fully attained. In many respects, we have only just begun! However, the "visions" of this community and school administration are quickly becoming a reality. It is my hope that when students, faculty members, and parents reflect upon the twenty-fifth anniversary of Brewer High School, they will do so with intense pride in what has been accomplished and with great anticipation of what is certainly to be!

Mr. T. W. McDaniels

Mr. T. W. McDaniel is known throughout the community as one of the city's finest achievers and leaders. He was recently awarded "Administrator of the Year." This year he will retire from the W. S. I. S. D. and we would like to wish him the best of luck in the future.

2001: A Star Encounter

Long ago in a galaxy far, far away a close encounter of the worst kind was created. A mutated species of creatures came into being—criminally insane and with high masochistic tendencies, no one could find a productive purpose for them.

Then one day on the planet Arkroomda the chief slave owner, Darth Cullers, brought forth an idea to have the creatures shipped to the new planet Earth where they would be out of the way. The idea was well received and the creatures were divided into four species: CRYTOGRAPHERS—the ones who wrote, REPRODUCTIONISTS—the picture takers, RECTANGULAR TYPOGRAPHERS—those who drew layouts, and the REQUISITIONISTS—those who sold advertisements. All four species were placed on a missile and shipped to Earth. Here they mingled, intermarried, and grew culturally. However, they still retained traces of their insanity and masochistic tendencies and had no purpose in life. One day thousands of light years later (star date 81878.2) the descendants of the species accidentally came together and combined their strange ideas and habits. They then created a new species—THE EDITORS, as they called them, to lead them. After this they requested and received a sponsor who was directly related to the wicked slave owner, Darth Cullers. Finally with all their strengths combined they found their purpose in life and banded together to preserve memories and called themselves The Annual Staff. Following is some of the pictures sent back to us via space satellite about their landing and everyday life.

–THE CREATURES BAND TOGETHER TO BECOME AS ONE AS THEY BRING UP NEW MEMORIES ON THE SHIP THEIR ANCESTORS CAME TO THE PLANET ON.

You're Stuck With It!!

At the beginning of the year, when we began to train new members, one of the first things we told them was "You'll never make a book that will please everyone, so don't try. Simply try to make a book that you can be proud of. Do your very best and represent the school year fairly." That is what we have done. Through experience we know that even if we gave every club ten pages, made sure everyone had at least seven pictures of themselves and a full color photograph someone would find fault. We combined the new and old ideas and suggestions and the product is this book. I'm not going to thank the staff members for making it possible—the finished book and the memories it contains are more reward than I could give. For those of you who did not like the book—I'm not sorry. Try out for the staff next year if you think you can do better. Anyway no matter how you see it—you're stuck with the book.

77-78 Co-Editor
Sharon Warner

Even though this was my second year as Editor in Chief of the annual it was just as hard if not harder than the first year. Even though there were many obstacles and problems to overcome (ask Mr. Cullers) somehow I and the staff always seemed to come through (I think). I think that many people will agree that this book is a great improvement over last year's book, maybe that's because of experience (or the lack of it). But there will always be a place for Annual SOMEWHERE inside me. Mr. Cullers should be given a great amount of credit for keeping the otherwise many-varied personalities of the staff members harmoniously combined long enough for us to make an annual (my fingers are crossed). Many times when you would walk into the annual room you'd swear World War III was going on, but sometimes we got along (didn't we??). So in closing, I hope that you liked the book but—oh! I used that last year didn't I? Sorry. Anyway, if you didn't like the book just try and make one yourself.

77-78 Editor in chief

1977-1978 Bear Tracks Dedicated to Mrs. Norma Burton

This year we, the Bear Tracks Staff of 1978 are formally dedicating the Silver Anniversary volume to Mrs. Norma Burton. Many of the students and some of their parents have had Mrs. Burton as a teacher and have been amazed at her teaching abilities. From her first day to now, more than 20 years she has taught the basics of one of the basics—Home Economics. This outstanding person is and has always been one of the kindest and most loving persons that Brewer has been lucky enough to have and to know. For these reasons we dedicate this annual to her as a small token of appreciation and gratitude for her many years of service to Brewer High School.
